Eleven Airmen Arrive

They Reach Manila By Airplane After Saying That Their Trial Was a Fraud

MANILA (AP)—Eleven happy U.S. airmen freed by Red China today were sped here by plane after declaring in Hong Kong their trial as "spies" was a fraud.

Col. John Knox Arnold Jr., 41, Silver Spring, Md., told a Hong Kong news conference that their B29 was over North Korea, 35 to 40 miles from Red China's border, when it was shot down Jan. 12, 1953, in the Korean War.

As for their release, Arnold told reporters that "Peiping is not entitled to a goddamn thing."

In announcing the 11 men were convicted, Peiping asserted last November that the plane violated the air over Manchuria. It was Arnold's first chance to answer the charges and he was emphatic, "I do not recognize it as a trial."

Arnold said in reference to the airmen's prosecution in Peiping, "The happy grinning airmen were pronounced in 'fairly good condition' after a medical checkup in Hong Kong."

Maj. William H. Baumer, Lewisburg, Pa., was on crutches. He said his left leg was wounded when the bomber was shot down and he later suffered frost bite.

They exchanged their drab Chinese clothes for new U.S. uniforms and wolfed steaks before flying here on the first leg of their long-awaited trip home.

Arnold told the news conference the B29 was on a routine leaflet dropping mission over North Korea when it was attacked by MIG jet fighters. The bomber burst into flame and the 11 bailed out.

Captured by Chinese Communists, the four were taken across the Yalu River border into Manchuria four or five days later and jailed.

Arnold said that after spending months in prison he finally was notified last October that he would be tried as a "spy." He then was confronted with the charge that his plane came down in China.

Capt. Elmer F. Llewellyn, Missoula, Mont., complained bitterly of the food, saying "You wouldn't eat it." There was rice and plain boiled cabbage.

All agreed that food improved as the hour of their release neared.

Daniel C. Schmidt, airman 2.C., Cour D'Alene, Idaho, told newsmen he was "very happy." He was unaware of the domestic difficulties awaiting him at home, where his wife married again in the belief he was dead.

Girl Complains Of Being Kidnaped By a Gypsy Pair

JONESBORO, Ark. (AP)—A small dark-complexioned girl told officers here today that she was kidnaped by a gypsy couple in New York City last May and forced to travel with them as a fortune teller in a carnival.

The girl identified herself as Ruby Toney, 15, of New York City, Yrkly.

She said she escaped from the carnival at Kennett, Mo., yesterday and made her way to Jonesboro.

The girl told Sheriff Lonnie Cooper that she was employed as a baby sitter by the couple when they lived in New York last winter. When the couple left New York, they forced her to accompany them, she related to Cooper.

The sheriff quoted the girl as saying she had not been allowed to write her parents and that she had no opportunity to escape until yesterday.

Tomato Weather

The weather may not suit you, but it suits tomatoes. Mrs. W. H. Buchanan, 612 East 12th, has 18 plants of Rutgers tomatoes and says the secret of their success is that she plants the seedlings in cardboard milk containers, then merely cuts off the carton bottoms when transplanting, planting both seedlings and cartons right in the ground.

The temperature at 7 a.m. was 69, 90 at 1 p.m. and 92 at 2 p.m.

The temperature one year ago today, high 100, low 75; two years ago, high 94, low 72, with 1.10 inch of rain; and three years ago, high 89, low 58, with .23 inch of rain.

Partly cloudy with little change in temperature tonight and Friday. Low tonight near 70 and high Friday near 90.

Stage at Lake of the Ozarks 57.2 today.

Accused of Killing Husband—

Mrs. Leola Brown Is Ordered Bound Over for Murder Trial

Mrs. Leola Betty Brown, 34, Negro, charged with first degree murder in connection with the fatal stabbing of her husband, S-Sgt. Peter M. Brown, was bound over to the Pettis County Circuit Court by Magistrate Frank T. Armstrong after a preliminary hearing was held Thursday morning.

The magistrate denied the defendant bond and ordered her held in the Pettis County jail until time for the trial in the higher court.

William F. Brown, attorney for the defendant, did not enter a plea at the hearing, explaining it was not necessary to do so at that time. After the denial of bond, Brown cited the Edgar Holland case where bond was granted on a first degree murder charge and

Expected His Punishment, Says Witness

NEW YORK (AP)—A fellow prisoner has quoted Sgt. James C. Gallagher as saying he "would probably have to pay for what he did as a POW when he got back."

During the court-martial trial of Gallagher yesterday, John N. Willis testified that Gallagher also told him in the Red POW camp the Korean conflict "was a senseless war—that we had no business being over there."

The 24-year-old Gallagher is accused of aiding the Communists while their prisoner in 1951 and 1952 and of the "unpremeditated murder" of three Americans at the POW camp.

Willis, from Lexington, N.C., said Gallagher once lauded communism as "a better form of government than we had" and, on another occasion told him: "If you cooperate with the Chinese you get better chow and better living conditions."

Willis described his reaction to the eight-man court-martial: "I just got mad, cursed to myself and walked off."

The tall, red-haired Gallagher, whose home is in Brooklyn, is charged with having thrown three sick men out of their shelter into the freezing cold in February 1951 at Camp No. 5 near Pyongyang, Korea.

The men who died were Cpl. Donald T. Baxter, Waukon, Iowa; Cpl. John W. Jones, Detroit; and a third prisoner whose identity is not known to the Army.

Maximum penalty is life imprisonment at hard labor.

US, Red China To Recess Talks Until Monday

GENEVA (AP)—The United States and Red China today called another recess—this time until Monday—in their secret talks.

There was no word whether Red China had agreed to release 40 American civilians it holds.

U. S. Ambassador U. Alexis Johnson and Chinese envoy Wang Ping-nan talked for an hour and a half on the question of the civilians, but neither would indicate concessions, if any, that were made.

A U. S. spokesman announced only that they would meet again Monday on the same subject.

This was seen as an indication that one or both of the ambassadors required instructions from their government. They had first discussed the issue of the civilians Tuesday and then recessed for 43 hours.

Despite apparent failure of today's session to produce agreement, rumors persisted that the release of the American civilians could be expected soon.

Bulganin Turns Down Eisenhower's Inspection Proposal As 'Unrealistic'

Large Convair Plane Crashes In Woods Area

Unknown Number Die In Crash Near Ft. Leonard Wood

ROLLA, Mo. (AP)—An American Airlines Convair plane in flames crashed in a wooded area on the Ft. Leonard Wood reservation today and at least seven bodies were picked up.

The plane was reported to be still burning some time after the crash and rescue workers were unable to get inside the wreckage.

An Army officer reached by phone at a building near the reservation airfield said that "seven or eight bodies had been found."

The American Airlines office at St. Louis said the two-engine plane would carry as many as 40 passengers but it was certain the plane was not loaded to passenger capacity.

The big plane crashed about one mile beyond the landing strip in a wooded area, setting brush and trees afire, the officer said.

"We had people there right after the crash," he said. "We sent a fire truck to the scene."

The Army officer said planes flying above the wreckage and reporting back by radio said there was no sign of survivors.

The plane had radioed the near-by Waynesville Memorial Airport that it was on fire and would attempt an emergency landing.

Witnesses said the plane was on fire before it crashed at 12:23 p.m. The plane appeared to be badly broken up, the officer said.

The intense heat from the flames, and the brush burning in the crash area, prevented a close inspection or a check on how many persons were in the plane.

The flight originated at Tulsa, Okla., with stops at Joplin and Springfield, in Missouri.

The flight was due in St. Louis and its estimated arrival time had been posted at 12:33 p.m.

Council Okays Self-Rule Plan For Tunisians

PARIS (AP)—A plan providing a large degree self-government for Tunisia was approved 254-25 today by the Council of the Republic, upper house of the French Parliament. It now goes to President Rene Coty for signature.

The program was announced last fall and largely ended anti-French violence in Tunisia. Trouble in France's other North African territories, Algeria and French Morocco, has been increasing steadily.

The plan already has been approved by the lower house of Parliament, the National Assembly.

The program, worked out by French and Tunisian nationalist leaders, will give Tunisia considerable control over its domestic affairs, while France retains control of defense and foreign relations.

In reply to criticism from French colonists in Tunisia, Premier Edgar Faure told the council: "We must consider not only what France is losing and what Tunisia is gaining, but we must realize what France has preserved and consolidated and also what Tunisia has not obtained."

Chief Edgar Neighbors testified as to his findings at the home and of the statement given by Mrs. Brown at police headquarters a short time after she was picked up.

Sgt. Rhodes was recalled to the stand and stated he did not examine or test blood found on the dress of Mrs. Brown which had been admitted as state's exhibit nor did he have any blood of the deceased man to compare with that found on the knife, hammer and his clothing.

Still Lots of Room for Improvement—

State Business Head Says Missouri Grows More Benevolent Toward Its State Workers

JEFFERSON CITY (AP)—Missouri is doing a little better—moneywise and recordwise—for its state employees. But there's still lots of room for improvement.

That was the conclusion of Bert Cooper, who, as director of the State Department of Business and Administration, is charged with the task of ferreting out inequities and suggesting improvements in job status for Missouri's thousands of politically hired workers.

He released his second annual study today and said much improvement has been made in the

Reds Make Overtures To Western Germany; No Strings Attached

BONN, Germany (AP)—The Russians have offered to establish diplomatic relations with West Germany with no strings attached.

This was disclosed today with publication of the Russian answer to the Bonn note asking for clarification of the conditions under which Chancellor Konrad Adenauer's visit to Moscow for talks with Soviet leaders would take place. Adenauer is now regarded as certain to go next month.

Announce Atom Testing By Soviets

Brief Statement Is All That Is Given By the Commission

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Atomic Energy Commission announced today that the Russians have resumed testing of "nuclear weapons."

The brief announcement said only this:

"Within the past few days the Soviets have resumed testing of nuclear weapons."

"This may mean the beginning of a new test series."

The most recent previous announcement of Soviet tests was made Oct. 26, 1954.

Before that—in August, 1953, the AEC confirmed Russian claims to have conducted a thermonuclear (H-bomb) experiment. It said both fission and fusion of atoms—commonly called "atomic" and "hydrogen" blasts—were involved.

Two weeks later the AEC said there had been a fission-type explosion which appeared to be part of a series. The commission said at that time it would not make announcements of each separate blast of the series.

Today's announcement did not specify whether the new explosion was of the fission type involving the splitting of some material such as uranium-235, or the fusion type involving the combining of extremely light weight atoms, such as forms of hydrogen.

As late as June 24 the AEC indicated it had had no evidence of a major nuclear blast by Russia in almost a year.

At that time Dr. Ralph E. Lapp, a nuclear scientist, wrote it could be revealed the Soviets "conducted at least two super bomb tests this spring." He said nongovernmental scientists picked up strong radioactive indications of an explosion in May.

Power Company Given Permission to Build Line to TV Station

JEFFERSON CITY (AP)—Missouri Power and Light Co. was given state authority today to build six miles of transmission line in Schuyler County to provide power for a television station near Lancaster, Mo.

The line will cost $23,000 but will bring in gross revenue of $11,000 a year.

The State Public Service Commission said the utility would have to get additional permission to serve any other customers who might want to hook onto the line.

Tri-County Electric Cooperative of Lancaster opposed the utility's plan because, it said, Missouri Power and Light might take some customers away from the cooperative. The PSC's decision didn't close the door to possible additional customers for the utility. But it apparently will require the utility to get PSC permission first.

IT'S HOT OUTSIDE, TOO—The high temperature outside offers this fireman, Don Rodacy, little relief after he emerged from a burning warehouse in St. Louis, Mo., so he sat down beside water rushing along a curbstone. The combination of intense heat and fumes from the flaming building, containing a stock of plastic materials, made the going rough for the firefighters. Damage to the structure was estimated at more than $200,000. (NEA Telephoto)

No Meaning In Atom Test—

President Does Not Believe Russian Agreement Hopeless

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower said today he does not believe Soviet Premier Bulganin closed the door to a U. S.-Russian disarmament agreement by his rejection of the idea of aerial inspections.

Eisenhower also told a news conference he does not think the new nuclear weapon tests by the Soviet Union—announced earlier today by the U. S. Atomic Energy Commission (AEC)—necessarily mean any change in what he called the more or less conciliatory attitude shown by the Soviets in recent months.

The President said the United States will have some new disarmament proposals to make in the United Nations before long. And he said this country will sympathetically consider Russian proposals along the same line with a determination to find a solution fair to both sides.

On domestic affairs, Eisenhower described the record of the just-adjourned Democratic Congress as commendable in foreign affairs. But he said the session failed to act on at least four measures he regards as vital to the nation's welfare.

He said he does not plan at the moment to call a special session later this year to act on his highway program, No. 1 among his measures the Congress shelved. But he added that he is not ruling out the possibility.

Eisenhower named school construction, health and water resources programs as the other three vital measures.

As to own future political plans: The President said he would have no excuse to defer a decision on the question of seeking a second term if he were an infallible prophet on world and domestic conditions and on the state of his own health, as these things might develop in the next year.

But he does not have that gift of prophecy, he said, and so he will continue to leave the question in abeyance.

His remarks stemmed from an account given by Sen. Bender (R-Ohio) of what the President told a group of Ohio Republicans at a White House meeting yesterday.

Will Not Have To Register Again to Vote

JEFFERSON CITY (AP)—Atty. Gen. John M. Dalton held today that registered voters in cities like Columbia won't have to rush down to the county clerk's office to re-register when a new law becomes effective Aug. 29.

The opinion was requested by Scott O. Wright, Boone County prosecuting attorney, after the county clerk became alarmed.

The clerk, Fred W. Glascock, said if some 8,500 Columbia voters had to re-register to vote in the special referendum election Oct. 4, they would have only six days to do it—an almost impossible situation.

And the situation would be the same in a number of other Missouri cities of over 10,000 population located in counties not having a permanent registration law.

Dalton's opinion today should ease the worry. He held that persons properly registered now in such cities would not have to re-register under the new law.

Only those who have moved since their last registration, those who have never registered or those who have failed to vote in the last two general elections will have to register immediately if they wish to vote Oct. 4. Dalton's opinion said.

The Oct. 4 election has two important propositions up for voter consideration:

Whether the state should adopt the proposed "foundation program" for public school financing and whether the state should levy a cigarette tax to help pay increased school costs.

Lightning Hits Well House In Smithton, Halting Water System

The Smithton water system was knocked out late Monday afternoon, but most Smithtonians were unaware of it until Thursday morning, when they ran out of water. Service was resumed at 9 a. m. Thursday.

The 50,000-gallon tank held enough water to carry the residents through Tuesday and Wednesday.

Apparently lightning struck the well house Monday, knocking out a coil and an armature. It had to be rewound.

Declares Air Studies Could Be Escaped

He Adds, However, That Geneva Talks Permitted Start Of Ending Cold War

MOSCOW (AP)—Premier Bulganin today turned down as "unrealistic" President Eisenhower's plan for a swap of military blueprints and mutual air inspection of each other's territories.

Deputies to the Supreme Soviet (Parliament) assembled in the Great Kremlin Hall burst into laughter when Bulganin said the real effect of the President's proposal would not be considerable because "both countries have limitless territories on which one could hide anything."

The President offered at the Geneva summit conference on July 21 to pinpoint American military establishments and let them come under the eyes of Russian aerial inspection teams in return for reciprocal action by the Russians.

The President said he made the proposal to convince everyone of "the great sincerity of the United States in approaching this problem of disarmament."

The Soviet premier's rejection of the Eisenhower plan came near the end of his 95-minute report to the Soviet people on the Geneva conference. He spoke to a special session of 1,500 deputies to the Supreme Soviet.

He made three main points about the conference:

1. Geneva helped to ease international tension.

2. The personal contact there proved fruitful.

3. It marked the beginning of putting an end to the cold war.

He pledged the U.S.S.R. would do everything in its power to help to end the cold war.

He said all four powers displayed a desire at Geneva to end the cold war.

Referring to Eisenhower's plan as a step toward disarmament, Bulganin said:

"We must pay tribute to his efforts for a settlement of this question, but the real effect could not be considerable and we said in our official talk (at Geneva) that both countries have limitless territories on which one could hide anything."

Bulganin said the Soviet plan for arms inspection and control, published in London May 10, and repeated by him at the Geneva conference, was "more realistic."

Bulganin said he agreed with Eisenhower it is necessary to follow a constructive and not a negative line in world affairs.

He praised the proposal of U.S. Sen. George (D-Ga.) for a conference of foreign ministers with Communist China's Chou En-lai participating.

The delegates applauded when Bulganin announced he and Communist party chief Nikita S. Khrushchev will visit Britain next spring. They applauded again when he announced French Premier Edgar Faure has been invited to the Soviet Union.

Bulganin concluded: "We will now have to find ways to resolve several outstanding issues. The foreign ministers will face difficult tasks but if discussions continue with the proper spirit then they should be fruitful. The Soviet Union will do everything in its power to make the forthcoming October talks between the foreign ministers of the four powers successful."

More Heat Deaths In St. Louis Area

ST. LOUIS (AP)—Four deaths attributed in part to the heat were reported today, increasing the heat death toll for the St. Louis area to 16 for the past week.

A cold front coming this way from Canada holds some hope for a break in the heat this weekend.

Harry F. Wahlgren, government weatherman, said that if the cold front doesn't give out, the St. Louis area should get some of it by Saturday.

Kentucky Race Nears Finish Sat.

FRANKFORT, Ky. (P)—Kentucky's fiercest political fight in years today found the two major candidates for the Democratic governor's nomination in a hard-driving finish to a furious campaign.

Saturday, Kentucky Democrats will choose between former Baseball Commissioner A. B. (Happy) Chandler, seeking to be governor again, and former Appellate Judge Bert T. Combs, making his first bid for statewide elective office with state administration backing.

The winner will run in the Nov. 8 general election. Five of the last seven governors have been Democrats.

But the Republicans are counting on factional bitterness among Democrats to put the first GOP governor in office since 1943. The term is for four years.

Running for the Republican nomination in a relatively quiet campaign are former U.S. Dist. Atty. Edwin R. Denney, 51, endorsed by Ambassador to India John Sherman Cooper, former U.S. senator from Kentucky, and James L. Clay, 43-year-old attorney.

Outcome of the Combs-Chandler contest will have a bearing on the political future of U.S. Sen. Earle C. Clements, acting majority leader, and the makeup of this state's delegation to the 1956 Democratic presidential nominating convention.

Chandler has indicated that if he's elected governor he would have an opponent face Clements in next year's primary. Thus the Chandler-Combs race represents a struggle for power between factions headed by Clements, 1947-50 governor, and Chandler, 1935-39 governor, and 1939-45 U.S. senator.

Each side predicted victory. A third candidate was Jesse N. R. Cecil, several times an unsuccessful aspirant for a major office nomination.

Senators Clements and Alben W. Barkley, former vice president, headed to Kentucky right after Congress adjourned to speak in Combs' behalf.

Gov. Lawrence Wetherby has been heading his administration's fight against Chandler, who is banking on his personal popularity and record as governor to lead what he calls a "revolt" against the Clements-Wetherby "dictatorship" and "machine." They deny this and say they have provided, and Combs will continue, "progressive leadership."

Humid Weather Will Continue Across Nation

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Today's weather in most of the nation will be about the same as yesterday, hot and humid, just like it has been for more than a week.

The Weather Bureau said more of the same is expected tomorrow and probably for several more days. At least, there appeared no immediate widespread relief from summer's longest and most severe heat wave.

Temperatures in the 90-100 degree range blanketed the major part of the country again yesterday. Top reading was 110 in Bakersfield, Calif., in the southern end of the San Joaquin Valley.

Similar blistering heat was reported in the Dakotas and Nebraska and 90-plus marks prevailed over much of the mid-continent.

The hot, sticky weather continued during the night, with temperatures in the 70s from the central Atlantic states to the plains and southward to the Gulf.

Some 50 deaths have been attributed to the hot weather, most of them in the scorched Midwest. Five Washington, D. C. area men were stricken with heat exhaustion yesterday.

Cool air in the northern Rockies and northern Maine dropped temperatures into the 40s. The cool front moved into northern Minnesota and western South Dakota and was expected to bring a measure of relief to northern Midwest areas.

Negroes to Attend Fayette High School

FAYETTE (P)—Negro students in the eleventh and twelfth grades may enroll at Fayette High School next fall according to a ruling by the local board of education.

The action was taken here yesterday after the Columbia Board of Education limited Negro enrollment there to Boone County residents. Fayette had proposed to transport Negro students in the junior and senior grades to Columbia.

Negro pupils in the first 10 grades will continue to attend the Lincoln school here.

Charges Army Security Plan Is Harmful

WASHINGTON (P)—Norman Thomas charged today that the Army's security program has wrongfully fastened disloyalty labels on many young men and made it impossible for them to get jobs after being discharged.

The Socialist party chief, often a presidential candidate, joined in accusing the Army of "assuming the role of censor over all the nation's young men from approximately the age of 15 to 30."

He said a report on more than 100 cases affected by the security program would be handed to Asst. Army Secretary Hugh H. Milton II late this morning.

The report was prepared by Rowland Watts, Baltimore and New York attorney and national secretary of the Workers Defense League. Thomas is a director of the league, which describes itself as an anti-Communist organization interested in the defense of civil liberties.

The two men were joined in the presentation by Kenneth M. Birkhead, national executive director of the American Veterans Committee.

Watts said the report was based on interviews with lawyers and their clients from coast to coast.

An Army allegation in one case, described as "still pending," was that the draftee had a father "who is reported to have said that if communism offered anything good he would accept it."

Watts said, however, that was only one of many allegations and the only one the lawyer in question would make available.

He said in many of the cases the soldier gets quasi-clearance through a "general discharge under honorable conditions."

But, he points out, such a discharge has imprinted upon it "SR 600-220-1 applies. This is the regulation pertaining to security, and 'any personnel man knows it,'" said Watts. Consequently a youth with such a discharge has little chance of getting employment, he added.

He cited "the fantastic fact of eight jobs in three months" for one draftee separated under the security program.

County Council Has Tax Cut Proposition

ST. LOUIS (P)—The St. Louis County Council has before it a recommendation to cut the tax rate 35 cents per $100 assessed valuation to compensate for a blanket boost in assessments.

Luman F. Matthews, county supervisor, made the recommendation in a message to the council yesterday. Matthews said under the new rate the amount of revenue would be about the same as before.

The new rate would be 66 cents compared with the old rate of $1.01. He said the 66-cent rate does result in a "slight increase" in the county levy but said it was as close as the county could come in adjusting the rate to the assessments.

The State Tax Commission ordered the assessment hike.

The council at Matthews' suggestion, also set up a "watch dog committee" to examine all taxing units' rates in the county so none could secure a "windfall" by not dropping rates in proportion to the valuation rise.

Fields Full of Ragweed--

Doctor Blames Prosperity For Plague of Hay Fever

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (P)—America, which leads the world in telephones and automobiles, also has more hay fever victims than any other country.

Why? Prosperity, good old prosperity.

This is the theory of Dr. Rudolph Mayer, discoverer of pyribenzamine, an antihistamine used in the treatment of hay fever.

In Europe, where every available piece of land is tilled or utilized in some way, there is no room for ragweed, which is blamed for 90 per cent of all hay fever.

"Only in the United States can we afford the luxury of unused open fields and lots, where ragweed grows," said Dr. Mayer.

While hay fever may be a by-product of national prosperity, it gives its victims—whose annual seasonal torture begins this month—anything but a sense of individual well-being.

And the ailment is on the increase.

The U. S. Public Health Service says there are nearly 4 million asthmatic and hay fever sufferers in this country. It is estimated the two diseases cost some 24,750,000 lost workdays each year.

One of the sorest points with those afflicted with hay fever is that they meet with little sympathy from their nonallergic friends. Their plight is regarded as oddly humorous. The surest way to make an enemy of a man with hay fever is to tell him, "It's all in your mind."

It isn't ragweed pollen in itself that causes hay fever, but certain chemicals in it resembling the

Administration Is Said Embarked On Try To Control Prices by Cutting Back Credit

WASHINGTON (P)—The Eisenhower administration reportedly is embarked on a policy of cutting back credit to keep prices, fairly stable for two years, from climbing.

"The business boom is getting pretty exuberant," said one high official who asked that he not be named. "It's the consensus of the economic and financial side of the administration that the government should exert some effort to keep it orderly."

The latest in a series of credit curbs was announced late yesterday. Effective today, 4 of the 12 federal reserve banks raised the rate they charge member banks which borrow from them.

The Chicago, Boston and Atlanta banks raised the charge—called the discount rate—from 1 1/4 to 2 per cent. Cleveland jumped from 1 1/4 to 2 1/4 per cent, highest in 21 years. Not since 1948 had a federal reserve bank increased its discount rate by half a percentage point in one step.

Increases by the other reserve banks are expected to follow soon.

This move, designed as a curb on inflation, followed closely the tightening of down payment and mortgage terms on government-insured housing loans last Saturday. Also, the Federal Reserve Board and the comptroller of the currency have dispatched letters to banks cautioning against over-liberal terms on auto purchases and other installment credit. The government also has tightened up on credit buying of stocks.

Graham Reports His Willingness To Visit Russia

NEW YORK (P)—Evangelist Billy Graham, just back from a European preaching tour, says he "would be willing to go to Russia under certain circumstances."

Graham said a group of Russian Baptist ministers had discussed the possibility of a Russian crusade with him in London. He gave no further details but added, "I probably will make an announcement concerning this invitation next month."

The evangelist, who was in Geneva at the time of the Big Four conference there, said he believed "God was on the side" of President Eisenhower in these talks.

The President emerged from the conference as "the great world statesman," Graham said. "He brought back to the people of the world a word they had forgotten—peace."

On his arrival here aboard the liner United States yesterday, Graham said he found a "great spiritual hunger" all over Europe. His 4 1/2-month tour took him to England, Scotland, France, Germany, Holland, Switzerland and the Scandinavian countries.

Altogether, he said, he spoke to four million people.

Rhee Makes Amends

SEOUL (P)—President Syngman Rhee today vaguely hinted that coexistence with the Communists might be possible if they withdrew from land south of Parallel 38.

"The Communists must do it if they ever want to realize so-called coexistence with the free world," he said at a news conference.

He refused to elaborate. But it was unusually mild talk from the fiery 80-year-old leader who has long advocated reuniting Korea by force.

The discount rate has been 1 1/4 per cent since last April and May, when the reserve banks raised it from 1 1/4. Another boost was generally expected, but not until later—and not by differing amounts in the federal reserve cities. That hasn't occurred since World War II. Variations are based on a bank's appraisal of the money supply in its area.

A bank increases its legal reserves by borrowing from its regional reserve bank. Since the borrowing bank is required to keep $20 in reserve against every $100 loaned out, the money it receives from the reserve bank means that it can lend five times that amount to businessmen.

Each loan made to a businessman also has a multiplying effect, because the ordinary borrower usually writes a check which is deposited in a second bank. The second bank's reserves are thus increased, and also its lending power. This may continue through a long series of loans and deposits, each representing an expansion of credit.

Member banks recently have been borrowing as much as 600 million dollars a week from the reserve institutions, although the level dropped to 395 million dollars in the week ended July 27.

By making it more costly to borrow, the reserve banks hope to discourage what one official called "excesses" of borrowing—sometimes for speculative purposes—without unduly tightening up credit for legitimate business needs such as building up stocks for Christmas business.

Officials have been concerned over the rapid rise in bank credit extended to consumers. The total expanded by about one billion dollars in the first half of this year, mostly in the form of installment credit on auto purchases. Total

50th Anniversary Is Observed By W. Ridgeway

Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Ridgeway, 319 East Seventh, celebrated their golden wedding anniversary Sunday afternoon with open house from 2 until 5. Guests numbered 100.

The home was decorated with arrangements of yellow and gold colored flowers, gifts of friends and relatives. The dining table, covered with a lace cloth, was centered with an arrangement of yellow carnations, daisies and roses in a crystal bowl. Crystal candelabra holding gold tapers were on either side. Gold wedding bells and lettering adorned the white napkins.

Mrs. R. E. McCowan received the guests at the door. Serving at the table were Mrs. Miller Hern, Mrs. G. C. Young, Miss Helen Lloyd, Mrs. Reynolds Lloyd, Miss Mildred Sutherland, Mrs. Allen Brohn, Miss Fran Moore, Mrs. Joseph Long and Mrs. C. S. Long.

Their three children, Mrs. James V. Witty, Kansas City, Jack R. Ridgeway, Joplin and Mrs. Robert H. Long, Sedalia, and their three grandchildren, Jack Gabriel, who had charge of the guest book, Pamela and Stephen Long were all present for the occasion.

Mr. and Mrs. Ridgeway were married July 27, 1905 at the home of her late sister, Mrs. Oma Lloyd and Mr. Lloyd in Boonville by the Rev. Lindsay, now of Clinton. The Ridgeways moved to Sedalia from Rockport in 1923. Mr. Ridgeway managed Kroger Store before his retirement.

A highlight of the day was a buffet uncheon at the home of Mrs. Ridgeway's niece, Miss Helen Lloyd, and brother-in-law, Oma Lloyd. The dining room carried out the golden anniversary theme with a centerpiece of yellow and gold flowers, gold candles and place cards bearing gold wedding bells.

Out of town guests were Mr. and Mrs. Miller Hern, Mr. and Mrs. G. C. Young and Diana Gardner, Rockport, Roy McCowan, Columbia, Mr. and Mrs. Reynolds Lloyd, Eldorado Springs, Mrs. Allen Brohn, Jefferson City, Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Burger and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Kiel, California.

Flat Creek Club Has Contributive Dinner At W. A. Ball Home

A contributive dinner was served to the Flat Creek Extension Club at the home of Mrs. W. A. Ball. Mrs. H. E. Logan and Mrs. H. A. Hopkins were assistant hostesses.

Mrs. J. J. Murray presided over the meeting and Mrs. Isaac Snow gave the devotion. Twenty-six members answered roll call with what they did the Fourth of July. Mrs. Maude Arnold and Mrs. Paula Lutjen and daughter, Caroline Staley and Virginia Fisher were guests. Mrs. Charles Keele gave the 4-H report. A report on the Kansas City tour was given. Those enjoying the tour were Mrs. W. A. Ball, Mrs. Robert Poltoroff, Mrs. R. C. Wissman, Mrs. S. G. Monsees and Mrs. Cecil Monsees. Mrs. Charles Kast appointed the nominating committee: Mrs. Charles Keele, chairman; Mrs. J. T. Edmundson and Mrs. Isaac Snow. Caroline Staley reported on the trip to Columbia and told of Campbell-Harrison home. Judy Murray and Ann Logan gave a demonstration on how to measure flour. Zora Snow and Judy Hopkins gave a demonstration on putting in a neck zipper. Mrs. Olyn Rugen and Mrs. D. B. Wilhoit gave a lesson on sewing machine attachments.

Mrs. Carl Wilken, Mrs. Cecil Monsees and Mrs. O. W. Watson will serve refreshments to the 4-H Club in August.

The annual September picnic will be held Sept. 11 at the R. C. Wissman home and the regular meeting will be with Mrs. Henry Alt.

Hiway Care Necessary To 'Begin at 40'

The Missouri Highway Patrol has news for those who believe that "life begins at 40."

"You first must reach 40," Patrol Superintendent Hugh H. Waggoner said, "and according to our latest study of traffic accident statistics, you may not make the grade if you travel by automobile."

The study, made by the Patrol's safety education office, of traffic fatalities for the month of June shows that 38 of the 72 persons killed were under the age of 40 and the age of two were unknown.

The ages recorded in the study ranged from six months to 82 years. The report also disclosed that 35 of the dead were drivers, 29 were passengers and 8 were pedestrians. Twenty of the 35 drivers had not reached their fortieth birthday; fifteen of the 28 passengers, whose ages were recorded, were under 40; and three of eight pedestrian fatalities had not reached 40. The age of one pedestrian was undetermined.

Col. Waggoner said that there were eight traffic accidents in June in which more than one person was killed. Two were killed in each of four of them and three were killed in each of the other four, making a total of 20 dead in the multiple fatality accidents. Eleven of the 20 were under 40 years old, eight were over 40 and the age of one was unknown.

The colonel said, "The tragedy of June's traffic toll is not written in deaths alone. It becomes more dreadful when we consider the hundreds who were injured. Many of the injured will carry the crippling results of their encounter until death. The suffering and pain has no way of being counted in statistics and the cost in dollars and cents is staggering."

Conclude Talbot Case After His Resignation

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate Investigations subcommittee said today its inquiry into Secretary of the Air Force Harold E. Talbot's outside business activities "has been satisfactorily resolved" with his resignation.

"Therefore, with the issuance of this statement, the aforesaid investigation is concluded," said a five-paragraph statement winding up the inquiry.

Talbot, denying any wrongdoing in his partnership in the New York efficiency firm of Paul B. Mulligan & Co. told President Eisenhower Monday he nevertheless had decided to resign. The President accepted the resignation and wrote Talbot, "your decision was the right one."

Vandals Break Stained Glass In Local Church

The head of Christ in the beautiful round stained glass window high on the west side of the Calvary Baptist Church, 16th and Quincy was recently broken out. Until another picture can be made in the colored glass a clear glass in the outline of Christ's head has replaced the original.

Many people have noticed it the last several nights because the picture itself was always an inspiring sight when lighted, up so high with its dark background it looked as though it might be hanging in the sky. "Now," said someone, "It looks weird." Perhaps it looks that way because someone has wandered so far away from the good things in life that they threw a rock at the picture of the head of Christ and shattered it.

Last Halloween pranksters shot at the stained glass window and left it full of holes. Now someone else has finished the job with a rock. And so, as a symbol of the type of people who would destroy a stained glass image of Christ, the strange looking window shines out in the darkness.

About Town

Commander and Mrs. R. C. O'Malley and children, Garth, Pitt and George of Canton, Ohio, are here for a visit with Mrs. O'Malley's mother, Mrs. George H. Trader and Mr. Trader, 1220 Barrett. Weinrich on charges of intoxication, resisting arrest and disturbing the peace, was released from jail on Thursday morning. His release was ordered by Judge Weinrich. Cox goes overseas in 12 days, it was reported.

A request was made of the police Wednesday night by an irate wife. She notified the police her husband was seeing another woman and wanted them to stop him. They informed her "no can do."

A prowler call was reported at 11:45 p. m. to the 800 block on West Sixth. Police making an investigation found a neighbor lady out walking her pet dog.

Police found a window open at the Bryant Motor Co., on the alley. Officers made an investigation and notified the management.

Excavation Work Begins On Lake In New City Park

UNION (AP)—Excavation work starts today on a four-acre lake in a 100-acre city park that was acquired through efforts of residents in this Franklin County town.

W. S. Barnhart, county conservation agent, said the lake bed will be finished in about two days. He said the lake, to be about 30 feet deep, will be stocked with fish.

Local contractors are furnishing digging equipment for the excavation work.

Barnhart said resident of the area had been working since 1950 to acquire all the land for the park, about 35 acres of which will be set aside for the youth of the community.

He said eventually shelter houses will be erected on this part of the land for use by various youth groups.

The Franklin County Junior Achievement Fair is scheduled to open tomorrow on the park grounds.

Barnhart said Frank Jenny, an attorney, was one of the leaders in the drive to acquire the park. He said permanent buildings are planned for the achievement fair, which is sponsored by the Union Junior Chamber of Commerce.

Barnhart said 10,000 pine trees were planted in the park area by the conservation commission this spring and 7,000 multi-flora roses also were put out for borders. The

Dies in Fall Between 2 River Sand Barges

JEFFERSON CITY (AP)—Al Wallau, 66, a partner in a Missouri River Sand Recovery Co. here, drowned yesterday after toppling between two sand barges. Employees recovered his body quickly but efforts to revive him with a respirator were in vain.

Police said Wallau apparently struck his head on a barge as he

Three Ambush Armored Car; Two Captured

BUFFALO, N.Y. — Three armed men ambushed a Brink's armored car, shot a guard and made off with $160,000 in race-track receipts last night. Two were captured after a gun battle. The loot was recovered.

The bandits, clad in silk-stocking masks and armed with a sub-machinegun, broke into the Brink's, Inc., garage and vault before the car arrived with almost $498,000 in receipts from the Fort Erie race track just across the Niagara River in Canada. Three Brink's employees were on the truck.

Two of the holdup men were captured a half hour later after an 11-block running gun battle. "I thought I was a dead man," said Eugene Clonessy, 27, the wounded guard.

"Saw 'em and pulled my .38 but before I could fire a shot the guy with the tommy gun got me in the shoulder."

Clonessy was reported in good condition at Emergency Hospital today with a chest wound.

The bandits were identified by police as Anthony Pettinato, 39, Baltimore, and Sylvester Mazella, the Bronx.

They were held without charge. An alarm was sent out for James Sheridan, alias Jim Salemerio, of New York City.

Pettinato and Mazella were captured in private homes. The third man, believed to have been wounded, fled around a corner, staggered into a house and told the occupant he had suffered a heart attack. A half hour later he called a taxi and escaped. Police said all three had records.

Aluminum Magnate Leaves $12 Million

RICHMOND, Va. — Richard S. Reynolds Sr., aluminum magnate who died last week, left an estate of $12,780,000 with his widow the sole beneficiary.

The probate of the will here yesterday disclosed that Mrs. Julia Parham Reynolds will receive a life trust consisting of cash, stocks and personal effects.

Upon her death, the state will be divided equally among the Reynolds' four sons. Reynolds, 73, was chairman of the board of Reynolds Metals Co. Richard S. Reynolds Jr. is president of the firm and the other sons, Louis, W. G. and David P. Reynolds, hold vice presidencies.

New Car in Accident

SHAWNEE, Okla. — J. Paul Jackson, 32, Holdenville, drove his 1955 auto out of a showroom here yesterday.

Twenty minutes later his car and a model 1940 auto collided on U.S. Highway 270, four miles west of here.

The highway patrol said Jackson's car was a total wreck. Damage was estimated at $1,500. Jackson's wife suffered minor injuries.

Amphibious Stills

LEXINGTON, S.C. — Sheriff H. M. (Bill) Caughman is having trouble with water-borne moonshiners. He couldn't find a still in an area where he was sure one was operating. After a frustrating search, he took a look at a raft anchored in a pond. There was the still.

Since then, he has found another amphibious outfit on a flatboat on the Edisto River.

Believe 41 Have Died In Mine Explosions

GELSENKIRCHEN, Germany — Forty-one Germ. coal miners were believed dead today in a fire and explosion which rocked the Dalbusch workings in this Ruhr city.

Another 44 miners were injured, some of them seriously.

Fire raging through the mine halted rescue operations. Mine officials said 25 workers still missing below ground "must be presumed dead."

Rescue teams had brought up 16 bodies before the fire drove them out.

The explosion followed a fire in the mine yesterday.

All Details For Airmen's Picnic Are Set

Plans were formulated for the Sedalia Air Force Base-Chamber of Commerce picnic which will be held Aug. 16 at Liberty Park at a recent meeting of the committee. James T. Denny, general chairman, presided at the meeting, and announced that an entertaining program to be presented by the men from the Air Base had been arranged.

Mrs. Frank Wagner, food and hostess chairman, told of plans this year to have six rows of tables with breaks between them, the first table in each line with chicken, the second with salads, relishes and baked beans and the third with desserts. It will be necessary for the Chamber of Commerce families to bring plenty of food as a large number of single airmen are expected. Airmen with families will bring enough food for their own family and some extra.

Experience is a good teacher and Mrs. Wagner, who was in charge of the food last year, watched to see what was wrong. Finding the piece of chicken you wanted slowed things up considerably she noticed. This year there will be big pans of fried chicken with signs on them telling what they are, for all the legs will be in one pan, all the thighs in another, and so on.

A place will be provided for the baskets and dishes after they have been emptied, Mrs. Wagner stated and she urges every woman bringing dishes to see that their dish has their name on it. Then, she points out, there will be no lost dishes.

Maurice Hogan told of his plans for the booth where airmen will register and of placards he will make for the picnic.

Mrs. Anna Bagby, chairman of the Good Will Committee, under the Aviation and Military Affairs Division, told of plans she had made and that she expected to appoint Jack Cunningham as chairman of the cold drinks and ice water and Jim Van W. and Vernon Rodick co-chairman of the equipment committee to see that all equipment necessary will be set up ready for use.

Captain J. A. Herbst stated that he was willing to co-operate in any way possible and that he would see that the men at the air base were given all information. He would also attend to all details concerning the part the people at the base would play in the planning for the picnic.

Denny announced that gifts for the airmen included a $100 bond given by Mike O'Connor, $50 by William Wright Jr., and $25 by the Schien Truck Co. He also outlined the tentative program which he said would not be too long. Plans are to be made for a dance to follow the program.

Benton Cancer Unit Will Have Its First Annual Meet Tuesday

First annual meeting of the Benton County unit of American Cancer Society is to be held Tuesday evening, Aug. 9, at 8 p.m. in the basement of the Warsaw Methodist Church. Mary Van Fossen, American Cancer Society, field representative of Springfield, will present a film and lead a discussion on "Cancer Control for the Benton County Area." Everyone interested in this program is urged to come to this meeting.

At Lions Club Meeting—

Origin of Missouri State Fair Described By Ross Ewing, the Secretary-Manager

The 1936 Missouri State Fair and the origin of the fair was told to the members of the Sedalia Lions Club at its noon meeting Wednesday held in the Ambassador Room of the Bothwell Hotel by Ross Ewing, secretary-manager of the fair.

Don King, program chairman, introduced the speaker.

Ewing began his talk by telling of the creation of the fair by the 40th General Assembly and the first fair being held Sept. 9-13, 1901.

"At the first fair the total attendance was 25,346. The 33rd annual fair which was held Aug. 12-19, 1933, nearly six times that figure attended—more than 150,000," he said.

"Under a law enacted by the 37th General Assembly in 1933, the Missouri State Fair became a part of the new State Department of Agriculture and all the rights, powers and duties of the Missouri State Fair board were transferred to the Commissioner of Agriculture. The Commissioner at the present time is L. C. Carpenter of Trenton. The Commissioner of Agriculture is an office created by law, having direct supervision of all agriculture activities in the state. The secretary-manager of the Missouri State Fair is named by the Commissioner."

Ewing then went on to give the following information regarding the fair. He said, "The Missouri State Fair plant consists of 236 acres, on which are located 56 permanent buildings, 23 of which are brick, and a steel grandstand. The south one-third of the grandstand was built in 1901 at a cost of $8,000, the middle one-third in 1903, at a cost of $8,000; and the north one-third in 1906 at a cost of $8,000. It was the intention to have a slate roof put on this building, but, on account of neglected repairs, causing the sheeting to rot, the architect decided the building was unsafe for a slate roof and a galvanized roof was put on instead.

"The first of these brick buildings, the Varied Industries and Education buildings, were built in 1903 at a cost of $23,794.00 and $22,799.99, respectively. The University building was built in 1903 at a cost of $14,000. In 1904 the light horse barn and a heavy horse barn were built, each at a cost of $12,000. In 1905 a Galloway-Angus Barn and an Ayrshire-Guernsey barn were built at a cost of $10,000 each. A poultry building was built in 1905 at a cost of $16,000. In 1906 a Jersey-Holstein barn and a Shorthorn and Hereford barn were built, each at a cost of $10,000.

"The Coliseum was also built in 1906 at a cost of $70,000. In 1907 a jack, jennet and mule barn was built at a cost of $12,000. In 1909 a Machinery Building, now used for the Boys' State Fair School, was built at a cost of $10,000. In 1910 the Woman's Building was built at a cost of $40,000. In 1913 a dining hall was built at a cost of $4,000 and a fire station at a cost of $3,000. In 1922 the swine building was constructed at a cost of $133,000. This building is, without doubt, one of the finest in the United States.

"In 1925 the state purchased for $5,000, a building which the John Deere Co. had previously constructed.

Yunkers Grow Large Even-Formed Tomatoes

Mr. and Mrs. L. M. Yunker, 317 West Fourth, most always growers of luscious tomatoes, have some fine specimens thus far this year. They are smooth and perfectly formed, some being exceptionally large. Last year their endeavors were to naught like numerous others. They grow the Big Boy variety. They are not for commercial purposes.

Mr. Yunker is a retired engineer on the MKT, and with Mrs. Yunker they have an excellent vegetable garden as well as flowers.

PRINCESS ON A DATE: Here's Margaret at a London night club with Colin Tennant. Don't get the idea they were alone.

Bachelors Want to Know—

How Do You Proceed to Date A Princess Like Margaret?

By TOM CULLEN
NEA Special Correspondent

LONDON —(NEA)— Now that Mount Everest has been conquered, Princess Margaret, who will be 25 years old on Aug. 21 and who is still single, is one of the few outstanding challenges left to man.

Indisputably, the princess is the world's most eligible young lady from a marriage viewpoint.

If you were to accept the challenge, how would you go about dating Princess Margaret? Admittedly, the obstacles are formidable. Like the Everest expedition, you would find that you needed oxygen near the summit, for the court atmosphere in which the princess moves is exceedingly rarefied.

Family connections (a baronetcy never hurts), a good school, distinction in the Cold Stream Guards, and a healthy bank balance—all of these things help, but many an aspirant who meets these qualifications has been winnowed out of the running.

Supposing, however, that you were accepted as a member of the "Maggie Set," how would you go about getting a date with the princess?

The process, at first blush, seems simple. You merely telephone her lady-in-waiting at Clarence House, Miss Iris Peake, and then ask her to relay the invitation to the princess. But you have only reached base camp, with Everest still glittering far off in the distance.

Any thought that you will dine alone with Princess Margaret, for example, should be banished from your mind. The princess never appears in public with only one escort. The party must be never less than four, and usually includes six or eight guests.

You will be lucky, if she accepts your invitation, to manage a few minutes alone with Princess Margaret on the dance floor. And even then you will not be alone with her really, for Sergeant Crocker will be watching. Sergeant Crocker is Princess Margaret's private detective and his orders among others, are to see that no photographs of her are taken in public, unless by pre-arrangement.

The lady-in-waiting will want to know the size of your party, the names of the guests, the theater you plan to attend and the night club you will visit afterwards for supper.

If you are very lucky (that is, one of the select few), Princess Margaret will break in on the telephone conversation with, "Good morning, how are you today?" in a lilting, musical voice. "Thank you, ma'am, very well. And you?" (Princess Margaret is always to be addressed as "ma'am," even by her most intimate friends).

You repeat the invitation, then settle down for a few days' wait. Will the sun smile upon your fortunes, or will the sky cloud over at the summit? Chances are that Princess Margaret will accept in a formal note from Clarence House.

Scaling the social Everest will put quite a dent in your bank balance, you will find. There are theater tickets, night club and florist bills—for it must be flowers, flowers all the way for the princess.

You will score heavily if you manage to wangle tickets for the latest American musical a few nights after its London opening. For Princess Margaret adores American musicals. (You will find that she already knows all the lyrics by heart.) But don't order a box. Seats well down in the dress circle will do nicely, for the princess will be less conspicuous.

And don't make the mistake Lord Porchester made when he was Princess Margaret's escort not long ago. Lord Porchester forgot to keep a tight rein on the theater management, and as a result the management ripped out the first rows of the dress circle and installed deep armchairs for the princess and her party. No one, of course, watched the play, all eyes being on the princess.

You will be limited in your choice of night clubs to a few of the stuffier ones—like the "Four Hundred" in Leicester Square, which bills itself discreetly as "Private Caterers." Royal parties never use a side entrance, but are usually seated out of sight to most night club guests.

When seated at a "Maggie" party, you will ask on behalf of your guests, "Ma'am, may we have permission to smoke?" Permission is always granted. Princess Margaret puffing on a long cigarette holder is by now a familiar sight to the public.

The princess will order one of her favorite dishes—oysters, lobster, cold salmon or chicken—but will take only a small portion. She recently went on a diet after seeing a front-page picture of herself.

The first dance will go to you, as host, but the princess will be careful to ration out the others to each young man in the party. If she is having a good time, she will stay until 2:30 or 3 a.m., at which time she will say: "I think I had better be going now."

You will not see her to her door at Clarence House. Her final escort to Clarence House will be Sergeant Crocker, and usually she is driven in her own Rolls Royce (PM 6450) with its specially-raised seats and electrically-controlled windows.

A few days later you will get a letter from Princess Margaret's lady-in-waiting: "Her Royal Highness has commanded me to thank you for a most pleasant evening."

Bird Drama

WINDY HILL BEACH, S.C. (AP)— Bird watching proved more interesting than fishing when a strange martin tried to start an affair with a female nesting on a fishing pier.

When papa martin returned the feathers flew for a while until he drove the stranger off.

The fishermen watching the battle paid no attention when one of their number was bitten on the finger by a small shark he had caught, or when a fish pulled one woman's tackle into the sea.

Bikini-clad Doll Causes Marital Split

BESSEMER, Ala. (AP)—A vivacious brunette clad in a bikini is being held incommunicado in the Bessemer jail. She's a doll named Myrtle.

Myrtle's arrest resulted from one of those affairs involving a fun-loving husband, a jealous wife and a red-faced detective.

But Police Chief C. T. Mullen is a bit upset about the whole thing, although he agrees that Myrtle is quite a doll—paper doll that she is. Myrtle is made of pasteboard.

An indignant wife stormed into Mullen's office, displaying a photo of her husband with Myrtle in the bikini.

"I want this woman arrested," she said.

"For what?" asked the chief. "Alienation of affections and indecent exposure."

It turned out that the fun-loving husband had shown a picture of himself with Myrtle to neighbors. The story got back to the wife.

The husband delayed telling her that Myrtle was a pasteboard doll used by a beer distributor and that an employee of the distributor took pictures of his customers with Myrtle, who made them look quite dashing.

Detective Lawton Grimes called on the beer distributor and announced he had come to take Myrtle into custody. He tucked Myrtle under his arm and went back to the station.

"It's fantastic," Mullen said. The wife, on discovering that Myrtle is merely a paper doll, still wants somebody arrested.

Mullen told her that he'd arrest the proper persons if she could swear out a proper warrant.

Joplin Couple Dead In Automobile Crash

WAYNESVILLE (AP)—Mr. and Mrs. William C. Gavin of Joplin were killed yesterday in an automobile accident after he swerved to avoid a hood that had flown off another auto.

State troopers said the accident occurred on U. S. Highway 66 about six miles east of Waynesville.

Officers said Gavin was driving west following a car driven by Pvt. Gies L. Geist, 17, of Fort Leonard Wood when the hood on Geist's car suddenly flew off and dropped on the highway.

Gavin swerved his car to avoid the hood and the auto collided with an approaching truck driven by Craig L. Mensendick of Denton, Tex.

Both other drivers escaped injury.

Which Richmond?
RICHMOND, Va. (AP)—Col. Lester H. Kyle, retired, thinks this city is the Main Richmond on the map, but he knows there also is a Maine Richmond—in fact 17 states have Richmonds.

A motorist asked him how to find the address shown on an envelope. The colonel explained that it was Richmond, Maine. The stunned visitor turned around and headed north.

Chemical Warfare
Chemical warfare was known as early as 500 B.C., when sulphur and pitch were mixed together, set aflame, and hurled at besieged cities. The German use of chlorine gas, in 1915, marked the beginning of modern chemical warfare.

Say Airmen Released

LONDON (AP)—Peiping radio today announced the departure of the 11 U.S. airmen held in Red China 2½ years.

A Red broadcast heard here called the Americans "spies" and said they had completed the "exit procedure" from Communist China. It said the fliers, who were shot down in January 1953, had been released by the Chinese Supreme People's Court on the decision of a military tribunal before completion of their prison terms.

Forgery Ring Eased Terms Of Convicts

ANGOLA, La. (AP)—Louisiana penitentiary officials today began burrowing through five years or more of records for further evidence of a forgery ring that freed at least a dozen convicts before their time.

For payments of $200 to $300, convict clerks in the ring erased records and invented new ones to reduce sentences and alter crimes of inmate customers.

In one case, a man sentenced to 10 years for armed robbery had his sentence shortened to two years and his offense changed to simple burglary.

The forgeries came to light when Warden Maurice Sigler, a veteran of the federal prison system, became suspicious of a clumsy erasure on the records of a man scheduled to be freed Tuesday.

Prison officials said the convict turned out to be a contact man for the ring, soliciting business among the 3,000 inmates on the 18,000-acre prison farm.

Fugitive warrants were issued for seven men given gift reprieves by the ring. Records of all convicts in the past five years will be checked.

Three ring leaders and four others thought to be dickerers for an early release were placed in solitary confinement. One had $300 in his shoe.

Special investigator Sargent Pitcher said alterations ranged from crude, hasty erasures on the folder and top sheets to complete substitution of files, including commitment papers, FBI records and prison papers.

Sometimes "consecutive" sentences were made to read "con-

Rejects Terms For a Truce In Argentina

BUENOS AIRES, Argentina. (AP)—The Peronista party's new chief last night rejected terms for a political truce laid down by President Peron's foes. Peronista leader Alejandro Loirio termed the opposition demands "insolent and unacceptable."

Loirio's nationwide broadcast, first since he was elected party head last month, replied to a broadcast last week by Radical Party President Arturo Frondizi. The latter had answered Peron's previous plea for an end to political warfare by demanding sweeping government reforms and restoration of constitutional guarantees suspended for nearly four years under a "state of internal war."

Loirio referred to a speech Peron had made earlier last night in which the President said he did not "want to disappear from this world without having given the republic an ironclad people's organization." Peron also attacked economic inequality in Argentina. Loirio declared that "neither the incomprehension of some nor the bad will of many will veer us from the aims enunciated by the President. He accused the Radicals of being unwilling "to sacrifice their hatred in behalf of the common interests of the nation."

Despite previous government assurances that all political parties were free to express their views, Radical spokesmen still were having difficulty getting on the air. The government canceled two broadcasts by Radical leaders this week, saying they had not submitted their texts 48 hours in advance.

The opposition opened up in the Chamber of Deputies, however, with a move to spike Peron's campaign against privileges of the Roman Catholic Church in Argentina. Radical Deputy Oscar Alende introduced a bill yesterday to repeal the law authorizing a constitutional convention to end Catholicism's status as the state church.

Since the abortive June 16 revolt, the government and the Peronista press have curtailed sharply their attacks on the church. There has been no indication, however, that Peron doesn't want the constitutional convention to meet.

Youth Stabs Women To 'Hear 'em Scream'

ST. LOUIS (AP)—Police said a 14-year-old boy has admitted stabbing two women with a leather worker's awl just to "make them scream."

Officers said the street stabbings occurred last Friday and the boy admitted it yesterday.

"I stuck them to make them scream," he was quoted as saying by officers. "I guess it was just plain meanness. Maybe it was revenge because everyone picked on me and for once I wanted to pick on someone else."

Neither of the women, stabbed within an hour's time in southwest St. Louis, was seriously injured. The boy was turned over to juvenile officers.

Six Couples Are Stockholders In an Incorporated Vacation

OWENSBORO, Ky. (AP)—Vacation, yes, but about an incorporated vacation?

That's the brainchild of six Owensboro couples, stockholders in "Kentucky Wonders? Inc."

With that legend lettered broadly across their converted school bus, they plan to leave for the East Saturday morning for 16 days of "roughing it."

Their itinerary:

Sightseeing at Niagara Falls, a lobster feast in Maine, and more sightseeing and possibly radio-television appearances in New York.

The couples are Mr. and Mrs. B. J. Foster Jr., Mr. and Mrs. William Bennett, Mr. and Mrs. Frederic Shelton Jr., Mr. and Mrs. Glover Cary Jr., Mr. and Mrs. William Fulton, and Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Owen.

The idea was born recently when Foster mentioned a bus-bound vacation. The couples talked it over, then bought a 1946 model bus, equipped it, figured out a vacation budget and—for legal protection drew up articles of incorporation which were issued by the state.

The budget calls for an expenditure of $100 per person, including $25 each for the cost of operating the bus. Each couple is limited to one suitcase in addition to two dresses each for the women and a suit apiece for the men.

The campers will stock enough food to carry them through the first two days; after that, they'll buy provisions along the way.

Mrs. Owen explained that Kentucky Wonders? Inc. has a double meaning: it can be interpreted as a description of the passengers, or that Kentucky wonders just what the heck these people are doing.

The number of farm tractors in Sweden rose from 18,000 in 1939 to 100,000 today.

Benton Co. Had 41 At 4-H Camp

By Mrs. Jane Van Horn

WARSAW—A family reunion of the children of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Yeager, Warsaw, was held at the home of a son, Chester Yeager, Emerson, Ia., on Sunday July 31. All of their children were present with the exception of one daughter, Mrs. Carroll Wilkerson and Mr. Wilkerson of Kansas City, who stayed with Mr. Yeager at his home in Warsaw, as he was unable to attend. There were 35 present to enjoy the fellowship and basket dinner. Plans were made to make this an annual affair. Among those present were, Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Bybee, and Mrs. Elmer Yeager of Warsaw; Mr. and Mrs. "Happy" Yeager, and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Powell and two children of Kansas City; and Mr. and Mrs. Norris Yeager of Iowa.

The Annual 4-H Camp of Benton, Pettis and St. Clair Counties was held at Knob Noster Park last week, July 28 through July 31. The majority of the campers from Benton County went on the school bus, driven by Earl Bradshaw, however, due to the large number attending it was necessary for Miss Marcia Swinney, home agent for Benton County, O. V. Singleton, county agent of Benton County, and Jack Pohl to take their cars to provide transportation. Mr. and Mrs. Richard Kingma went up Sunday to help bring the campers home. Mr. Singleton reported that this is the largest group from the county to attend the camp.

Frightening Shirt

TAMPA, Fla. (AP) — Tony Pizzo, unofficial goodwill ambassador for Ybor City, Tampa's Latin Quarter, wasn't his usual gay self at a banquet for visiting Cubans. He explained he had just received the result from the mass x-rays conducted by the tuberculosis association. He was advised to have a thorough medical examination.

The next day Tony was all smiles when he showed up to bid the visiting delegation goodbye.

When X-rayed, he wore a shirt with an elaborate design in metallic threads. The metal showed up on the plate as a large dark mass in the chest area, but his lungs were perfect.

Tipton Fair One of Best In Interest

By Mrs. T. W. Miller

TIPTON—Tipton's Ninth Annual Fair, known as the Tri-County Agricultural and Mechanical Society, Inc., was one of the best, in point of interest at least, in its history.

Although there was a good attendance during the four-day event last Wednesday, Thursday, Friday and Saturday, the gate receipts fell off $232.36. Last year the ticket sales amounted to $1,466.11 and this year the total was $1,233.75. Sales of box seat tickets was down $22.05 from last year.

The Friday and Saturday horse shows saw one of the largest and finest displays of horse flesh ever to appear at a Tipton fair.

Various other departments were all fine with full entries for practically every premium offered, the art hall, which was very attractive, being included.

Music was by the Tipton High School Band and by Mrs. George Langkop, Bunceton, on her electric organ. The Floyd O. Kile Shows, Baton Rouge, La., conducted high class entertainment in the way of rides and stands on the midway.

There were three lunch stands conducted locally, by the American Legion, Farmers' & Sportsmen's Club and the Senior Class of Tipton High School of 1936.

The Ewald Fischer Sales & Manufacturing Co. is building a new three bedroom home in the west part of Tipton. It is to be strictly modern and contain six rooms.

Mr. Fischer's firm has just completed a new home just east of this new property for Bob Cox.

A modern business building just completed in Otterville is to be formally opened to the public this Friday and Saturday, Aug. 5 and 6, by the owners, Mr. and Mrs. Aubrey Bixler, Tipton, who conduct a propane gas and appliance company.

Mr. and Mrs. Bixler purchased the business in Otterville from Dick Baker in October, 1952, it being then known as the Baker Gas Co. routine flights from this country to Paris, France, Hamburg, Germany, and Lisbon, Portugal. He headquarters in New York City and as soon as living quarters are secured he will be joined there by Mrs. Schmidt and children, Carol and Diane.

Mr. and Mrs. L. D. Schaffter attended an MFA insurance agents' dinner meeting at the Flat Creek Inn south of Sedalia Thursday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Roscoe Yarnell were here for a weekend visit in the homes of their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ol Meyers, Syracuse, and Mrs. Bessie Yarnell, Tipton. Roscoe is with the Kansas City Power & Light Co.

Mrs. Harry B. Neis and sons, H. B., Tommy and Myles, are here from Olathe, Kan., this week visiting in the farm home of Mrs. Neis' mother, Mrs. Arbie Miller who also has as her guest for the week her brother, Elbert Huffman, Cross Timbers.

A dinner was given Sunday, July 31, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Broyles celebrating Mrs.

Broyles' birthday anniversary. Guests included Mr. and Mrs. Bill Broyles, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Knipp, Jr., and sons, Anthony, Jacky and Ricky. Other guests in the afternoon were Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Broyles and children, Billy Gene and Steven.

Local Park Scene of Tryst—

Crucial Chief Game To Be Held Tonight

Columbia Athletics Journey Here for Decisive Playoff

TONIGHT is the night—At 8 p.m. at Liberty Park the Sedalia Ban Johnson Chiefs will play what is so far the most important game of the season as they face the Columbia Athletics in a fight for a solid clinch on second spot in league standings.

The story leading up to this crucial game goes like this—The Chiefs have met the Athletics three times before during the season and each time have taken a bating by large scores. The last tilt played in Columbia the score was 14-5, another time there was a 13 run margin for the Athletics.

At the time the 14-5 game was played the Athletics were in first place in Ban Johnson standings for the second half of the season, but since that time they have fallen to fourth place and the Chiefs have steadily climbed in ratings until they are presently in second place. The games played with Columbia were won by the Athletics on three runs with the Chiefs having made as many as six errors in one game.

This is the past as far as the Chiefs are concerned and errors have become one of the least of the local club's problems. Tonight the Chiefs will have for the first time the opportunity of putting a winning club against Columbia and they are more than anxious to avenge themselves of the defeats taken at the hands of the Athletics.

Besides the desire to show up Columbia their position in league standings is at a climax. Jefferson City who is first in the league has lost one game, to the Brookfield Bombers. This loss for the Capital Citizens makes it possible for the Chiefs to take first place by defeating the Bears in the next game or at least by tying them.

The team has the record to win, they have the spirit and the will and from the reaction of the club after the win Tuesday night over Marshall their fighting spirit is already at a peak.

The big thing about the Chiefs according to their manager, Russ Gilmore, is they don't want to lose.

With all this on the side of the Chiefs there is possibly only one thing they lack and this is slowly being overcome. That is support of local fans.

Since the Chiefs have risen to a top team and are looked upon by other clubs as the group to beat the following has increased over 100 per cent, but with a crucial game like tonight's affair with two good clubs in action the local boys will need all the support they can get.

In accordance with this need Russ Gilmore, their mentor, has prepared a letter to the public which is as follows:

"Sedalia now has a winning ball club in the Chiefs and it is the desire of the team and myself to take the second half pennant.

"We can accomplish this with the support of the public.

"I sincerely urge all baseball fans who wish to experience a thrilling game and cheer the Chiefs on to success to attend the game tonight and judge for themselves the caliber of their local Ban Johnson team."

Bucky Harris Says Tigers Can Steal Pennant

WASHINGTON (AP)—Bucky Harris said today he regards the American League pennant battle as "a wide-open, five-team" affair.

He included his fifth place Detroit Tigers.

"Anything can happen," he said. "We can win the pennant."

The veteran manager, in his first year of a new hitch with the Tigers, said he doesn't think there is one team that must be beaten, that there is no way of deciding logically on a favorite.

Going into today's games, the Chicago White Sox in first place, a game ahead of the New York Yankees and the Cleveland Indians. Boston was three games back and the Tigers 6½ games.

Was Harris surprised at being that close?

"Not a bit," he replied. "As a matter of fact, watching the way we've lost some of these games, I think maybe we ought to be even closer."

Larry Doby Ignores Field Record for Hits

NEW YORK (AP)—Cleveland's Larry Doby had one of the American League's most coveted fielding records today—158 games without an error—but he's unimpressed.

"Me?" He said bewilderedly. "Shucks, I'd rather hit home runs."

The graceful Indian center-fielder yesterday broke the previous league mark of 157 set by Sam Mee of the Chicago White Sox and Baltimore Orioles through 1953-54.

But Doby still has to go 30 more to get the major league mark of 187 which Danny Litwhier of the Philadelphia Phillies established in 1941-42.

"I didn't have an idea I was working on a record," he said. "Of course I'd be proud to set any kind of a record but, for me, I'll take the ones made at bat."

Knights Score With Jaycees In Industrials

The Jaycees off nine hits collected 11 runs Tuesday night to take a seven run victory over the Adco Industrials, who gathered four runs off a single hit.

The winning pitcher Bill Lyles helped his own cause with a homer. The only Adco hit was a double by Don Broadbush in the first inning.

The losing pitcher was Sterling Adco jumped off with the lead in the first inning as they took three unearned runs and allowed the Jaycees to pick up two runs in their half of the frame.

The Jaycees came after the lead and took it in the bottom of the fifth brought two more Jaycee tallies. The last Adco run came in the top of the fifth.

Jaycees scored two more in the fifth and one in the sixth for their 11 markers.

The second game was forfeited to the National Engineers by the Kilowatts, who failed to raise a full team.

Wednesday night the Deaver's Devils forfeited the first game to the Moose club.

The second game brought the Knights of Columbus a 10-3 victory over Meadow Gold. Bob Schultz, the winning pitcher, gave up four hits as Logan, the loser, gave up eight.

Reinhart and Swisher had homers for the Knights.

Neither of the teams scored in the first three innings, but in the top of the fourth the Knights chalked up four big ones as the creamery boys continued scoreless in the bottom of this frame.

The Knights failed to tally in the fifth so Meadow Gold came through with one in the bottom of the frame.

The final frame saw six runs cross the plate for the Knights while two came through in the bottom for the creamery boys.

Women's Finals for Club Title Aug. 6

The remaining semi-finals match in the Sedalia Country Club women's golf championship was played Tuesday as the duel was carried the full 18 holes before Mrs. Lloyd Parker mustered a 1-up win over Mrs. William C. Hopkins.

The victory placed Mrs. Parker against Mrs. Frank Hayes in the 36-hole finals Friday and Saturday to decide the 1955 women's champion at the club.

The Parker-Hopkins match was a see-saw affair with neither holding more than a 2-up lead at any time during the match. Mrs. Parker grabbed a quick 1-up lead by winning the first hole. And by the turn of the first nine holes Mrs. Hopkins had evened the odds, and went on to take a 2-up command by the 18th hole. But Mrs. Parker refused to concede defeat and won the 14th and 15th holes to even it up. Mrs. Parker then went 1-up on the 17th and held her lead with a bogey 6 on the 18th for the 1-up decision. Mrs. Hopkins had advanced to the semi-finals by eliminating the defending champion, Mrs. Joseph Maunders 1-up in 20 holes.

Mrs. Hayes gained the other final berth by beating Mrs. Eugene Helman 2-1 in their Friday match.

The Hurricane Takes His Toll Of Ez Charles

SYRACUSE, N.Y. (AP)—The Hurricane Jackson camp is singing "We told you so" and Ezzard Charles' managers are yelling for a rematch after last night's furious heavyweight scrap at War Memorial Auditorium.

Jackson, the 23-year-old perpetual motion man from Far Rockaway, N.Y., showed why they call him Hurricane in winning a unanimous 10-round decision. After the first three rounds, he poured punches at the former champion, flapped an annoying jab into his face and danced a jig between rounds.

Trim at 191½, Jackson was in the best condition of his 27-bout career. Charles, now 34, weighed 191½ pounds.

Judge Dick Fazio scored the match a lopsided 8-2. Judge Ted Sheils saw it 6-2-2 and Referee Ruby Goldstein 6-4.

There were no knockdowns, although Jackson balanced precariously face down on the ropes in the second after being rushed by Charles.

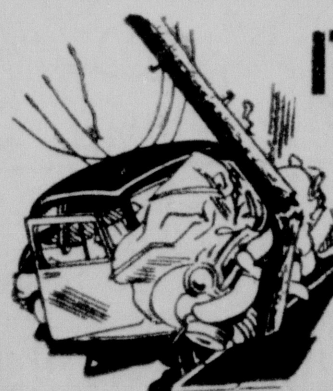

Down the stretch, a tired Charles tried to concentrate on landing one final bomb that would stop his opponent. Jackson merely shook off the heavy punches and came back for more.

Charles said he had underrated his opponent. "I heard a lot about him but I figured I'd be able to catch up to him. When I did catch up I couldn't get off. Next time I'll know how to fight a swarm of bees."

Odd Fellows Lost To Syracuse Wednesday

Sedalia Odd Fellows softball club in a six innings play at Syracuse Wednesday night lost by a score of 8 to 19. The Sedalians were unable to bunch hits sufficiently to overcome the lead of the Syracusans.

Last Friday evening at Housel Park in Sedalia the home team defeated Syracuse 18 to 8.

---Operation Polar Bear---

"We think it would be mighty nice,"

The boys called from the swimming pool,

"If you would add a little ice."

"To make this old warm water cool,"

And thus the manager began

To add some ice in great big cakes:

The boys agreed 'twas quite a plan,

"What a difference that ol' ice makes";

But the water, still hot from the summer sun,

Was the same degree as it was before,

Yet, the boys in the pool were having fun,

Thought it cooled them off—and they asked for more.

Youngsters Enjoy Cool Ice Bathing

The terrific heat which the people of the Midwest have been suffering the past month has brought many suggestions from various persons on how to conquer the problem.

The problem for adults is one which concerns physics in that channels of draft through the house must be gauged to find where the fan will best fit the needs of the family. The house must be checked for correct wiring before air conditioning can be introduced and any number of others solutions involving science and home remedies have been tried with no limit to the amount of computation involved.

The adults succeed in doing one thing — "WORKING UP A SWEAT."

Now the younger members of the family have their own solution also, one that is often hard for adults to follow, but one which is usually effective. Wear few clothes and spend your "WEEK IN THE WATER."

This final solution even became a problem last week when the water at the Liberty Park swimming pool became a little too warm for some of the youngsters. So what do they do? The natural thing—request that ice be put in the pool.

For a time Gerhardt Jaeger, manager of the pool laughed at the idea, but then Sunday morning while talking to John Vandekamp, the park board manager, he brought up the subject of putting ice in the pool at least just to satisfy the "kids" and this is what the two decided to do.

They ordered the ice from the Sedalia Ice and Cold Storage plant and at 2:30 p.m. Sunday, while 1,058 persons in the pool looked on 2,100 pounds of ice in the form of seven 300 pound cakes were brought to the side of the pool to be dumped in.

Then came one of the problems connected with "Operation Polar Bear."

As the cakes of ice were about to be lowered into the pool a crowd of children gathered below where the ice would fall.

After much urging the group finally backed off so the ice could be lowered, but no sooner had it hit the water than a swarm of youngsters would jump on it, floating, kicking, splashing and pulling to get the closest.

This wild reaction continued as all the cakes were lowered into the shallow end of the pool.

Suddenly some of the youngsters became cold, others chilled, the ice had achieved its purpose. It had cooled the water—as far as they were concerned.

Actually the water was tested before and after "Operation Polar Bear" with no difference in the water temperature registered.

As a matter of fact the ice melted within 15 minutes.

But the process worked for the children as they continued to splash around marveling at how much cooler the day had become.

Whether the operation will be carried on again is not known, but the youngsters continue to clamor for more ice to cool them off for their "Week in the Water."

The poem under the picture of the youngsters was written by Hazel N. Lang, reporter on The Democrat-Capital news staff.

AAA Withdraws Sanction Of Auto Racing Events

WASHINGTON (AP)—Two automobile racing tragedies this year were given as factors in the decision of the American Automobile Assn. to withdraw its sanction of auto racing in the United States after this year.

Indications came that the National Assn. of Stock Car Auto Racing (NASCAR) may try to take the role AAA is leaving.

At Daytona Beach, Fla., Bill France, NASCAR president, said all AAA drivers and car owners are welcome to compete in NASCAR-sanctioned events if they meet qualifications.

The Sports Car Club of America was mentioned as a possibility of taking over sponsorship of the annual Memorial Day race at Indianapolis.

The death of Bill Vukovich, popular racing figure, at the 500-mile Indianapolis race this year was one of the tragedies mentioned in the AAA decision yesterday. The other was that at Le Mans, France, where 79 persons were killed and 91 injured in a racing accident that spilled into spectators.

The AAA has nothing against automobile racing itself, AAA president Andrew J. Sordani, Wilkes-Barre, Pa., said in announcing the decision.

He added that the AAA felt that racing, with emphasis on speed, contributed little to one of the main objectives of the AAA: promotion of street and highway safety.

The AAA has given its sanction to only about 10 per cent of the auto races in this country, officials said, but these were the major ones, including the Indianapolis classic.

Anton Hulman Jr., owner of the Indianapolis Speedway, said the 40th annual 500-mile race will go on as scheduled next May 30.

Eisenstein Attends Insurance Training

David Eisenstein, 109 West Second, general agent in Sedalia for Mutual of Omaha, attended a unit manager's school at the Home Office in Omaha, Neb., last week.

Students at the school receive advanced training in management problems. They qualified for the instruction on the basis of sales performance and leadership ability. The school is one of four such schools held annually.

Police Arrest Two In Death Of Ex-Cabbie

EDWARDSVILLE, Ill. (AP)—Police last night arrested one of two men sought for the car-trunk killing of a former St. Louis taxi driver.

George (Stormy) Harvill was picked up by police in front of his East St. Louis home and brought to the Madison County Jail here. Still sought is Louis D. Shoulders.

Murder warrants for their arrest were issued yesterday. Shoulders is the son of Louis Shoulders, former St. Louis policeman now serving a federal prison sentence for perjury in connection with the 1953 Greenleaf kidnapping case.

Police said the younger Shoulders was a bartender employed at a tavern near Fairmount Park race track which was operated by Harvill.

State's Atty. Fred P. Schuman said the charges were filed after a thorough search of the tavern. He said a large stain found on the floor may have been made by blood and that it appeared attempts had been made to wash it off.

The body of the cab driver, Robert Carr, 24, was found in the trunk of his car July 21 near Livingston, Ill. He had been shot and stabbed.

Both Harvill and Shoulders had been questioned previously about the slaying. Bobby Davis Martin, 27-year-old St. Louis cab driver, already was under a murder charge in the case. Martin, who denied any connection with the case, is held in the Madison County Jail without bond.

Officers said Carr and Martin reportedly had quarreled over Carr's estranged wife Bernice.

Season grated cheddar cheese with tomato catsup and finely grated onion; moisten with mayonnaise. Use as a sandwich filling. Chopped pimiento-stuffed olives may be added to the mixture if desired. Another good sandwich mixture is made of mashed canned sardines to which lemon juice, pickle relish and minced parsley have been added.

An average of 224 tin cans for every American was made in 1954.

Bob Thomas In Hollywood—Drama Changes Hollywood Into World's Jazz Capital

By JAMES BACON
(For Bob Thomas)

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Drama makes this town the world's jazz capital this week.

Hollywood's jumping to some of the best swing music heard in 20 years—and no wonder. Two of the greatest bands of the swing era are reunited.

The reunion is only temporary, but while it lasts some great music is being made.

At Universal-International, they are making "The Benny Goodman Story" and most of the original members of that greatest of swing bands are rocking the sound stages. Gene Krupa, Teddy Wilson, Harry James, Lionel Hampton and Goodman, the King of Swing himself, seem to be playing better than ever, if that is possible.

On tonight's Climax show over CBS-TV, the original Bob Crosby Bobcats will be reunited. This band, one of the greatest of all Dixieland stylists, will perform their old arrangements of "Muskrat Ramble," "Gin Mill Blues," "Little Rock Getaway" and other Dixieland classics.

The play "One Night Stand" will dramatize a true incident in the history of the Bobcats. Playing themselves will be such Dixieland experts as Eddie Miller, Nappy LaMarr, Matty Matlock, Bobby Haggart, Billy Butterfield, Charlie Teagarden and Crosby.

It's hard to believe that the world came close to missing Goodman's music.

Krupa disclosed how Goodman once despaired of ever getting the public to buy his ideas in swing.

When the band started on its first one-nighter trip west, often there were more musicians in the ballrooms than paying customers," he said. "Business was so bad that Goodman called a meeting to suggest that perhaps the band had better give up swing and start playing the commercial, Mickey Mouse-type music that was the rage then."

"We talked him out of that fast. We all told him that we could make more money elsewhere but that we were with him because of his ideas—not his commercial appeal."

So the Goodman band stuck with swing and finally—at the old Palomar Ballroom here in Los Angeles—the new type music hit. The rest is history, else U-I would not be making a movie about Benny Goodman.

Johnson Holds Lead in Race For Governor

JACKSON, Miss. (AP)—Atty. Paul Johnson and J. P. Coleman, state's attorney general, face each other for the governorship of Mississippi in the Aug. 23 Democratic primary. Johnson, making his third bid for the post once held by his father, led a field of five candidates in Tuesday's first Democratic election laws, if no candidate receives a majority the two leaders go into a runoff primary. Nomination in the Mississippi Democratic primaries virtually means election.

Unofficial incomplete returns gave Johnson 110,748 votes in 1,763 of the state's 1,852 precincts; Coleman, 102,567.

All candidates promised they would keep Negroes out of white schools.

The present governor, Hugh White, is ineligible to succeed himself.

Longer Season, More Ducks Asked By Flyway Boys

ST. LOUIS (AP)—A longer waterfowl hunting season and a larger bag limit of ducks will be recommended by the Mississippi Valley Flyway Council.

The Valley group, representing administrators of the fish and game departments of the 14 states of the flyway and their staffs, decided to recommend a 60-day season with a bag limit of seven ducks, of which two must be pintails, at a meeting here yesterday.

Federal regulations last year provided for a 55-day season and a four-duck limit.

The recommendation will be made next Monday and Tuesday at a meeting of the National Migratory Waterfowl Flyway Council in Washington. This group, in turn, makes suggestions to the interior department's fish and wildlife service which has the final decision.

Mt. Etna Threatens

CANTANIA, Sicily (AP)—Mt. Etna's noisy northeast crater burst out in a new series of explosions before dawn today.

After belching smoke and lava for more than a month, the Sicilian volcano had shown signs of quieting down. Late last week, just when the eruption appeared over, it flared briefly back to life.

House Group Makes Plans for Visiting

WASHINGTON (AP)—The House Reclamation subcommittee has completed plans to an October-November field trip to the Midwest, West and the Northwest.

The subcommittee will open the tour with attendance at the National Reclamation Assn.'s annual convention at Lincoln, Neb., Oct. 24, 25 and 26. The schedule, made public today, also provides for hearings and inspections of project sites.

On Oct. 27, the group will study the site of the proposed Mid-State unit of the Missouri Basin project at Grand Island, Neb., and will hold a hearing on the project.

The following day, committee members will inspect the area proposed for irrigation at the Red Willow Dam site at McCook, Neb.

From McCook, the subcommittee members will drive to the Snake River in Idaho, and later will visit other west states.

Report British Ship Bombed at a Harbor

HONG KONG (AP)—The British freighter Inchwells reported today she was bombed and machine-gunned at the entrance to Foochow harbor on the Red China coast.

The ship's owners, Williamson and Co., of Hong Kong, said the radioed report did not specify the identity of the attackers but presumably they were Chinese Nationalists.

One crewman was injured seriously and another was hurt slightly in the attack yesterday afternoon, the spokesman said.

Last July 9 the Inchwells was bombed and machine-gunned by two Thunderjet aircraft in the Min River near Foochow.

The British have protested repeatedly against Nationalist Chinese interference with Foochow-bound merchant ships.

Wife of St. Louis Democratic Official Is Killed In Accident

CUBA (AP)—Mrs. Mary K. Nangle, 59-year-old wife of a St. Louis attorney and former Democratic national committeeman for Missouri, was fatally injured in an automobile accident about four miles west of Cuba yesterday.

Her 11-year-old granddaughter, Karen Schnieder, and Mrs. Dorothy Woolsey of Rosati, Mo., driver of the other car, were seriously injured.

Mrs. Nangle, wife of John J. Nangle, died about five hours after the accident at the Phelps County Memorial Hospital in Rolla. She was taking her granddaughter to the family's summer lodge at Sugar Tree Club, near Rolla, when the accident occurred.

Girl, Father Burn In Restaurant Blaze

EAST ST. LOUIS, Ill. (AP)—A 60-year-old man and his small daughter burned to death early today in an East St. Louis restaurant fire. The victims were Pete Tsakos and his five-year-old daughter, Anasasia. The mother, Helen, 42, was rescued but suffered serious burns from the flames.

George Chrisos, operator of a nearby tavern, was treated for smoke inhalation, after he helped pull Mrs. Tsakos to safety.

Chrisos and his brother-in-law, George Ladas, were at his tavern when they saw flames shooting from the two-story brick building. They ran across the street and after hearing the trio screaming for help, broke down a screen door and kicked out a plate glass window.

We still have some bowls, plates, cake pans, etc., that were left at the Chamber of Commerce 4-H Picnic.

Summertime Is Melon Time

Melons are plentiful and you will find them stacked high in every food store and roadside market. The watermelon crop is more than one-fourth larger than average and the cantaloupe crop about ten per cent larger.

Chilled melons are always popular for hot weather eating. They are not only refreshing to eat, but they supply fairly generous amounts of some of the vitamins you need. A half of a slice (¾ by 10-in.) of watermelon will supply nearly a fifth of the recommended daily allowance of Vitamin A and one-seventh of the Vitamin C. A half cantaloupe five inches in diameter will supply more than the recommended daily allowance of Vitamin A and more than three-fourths of the Vitamin C.

How to Select a Watermelon

Large sized watermelons are generally preferred because they have more heart of flesh that is free from seeds, but in recent years there has been an interest in small watermelons—some as small as cantaloupe.

The essential factor of quality in watermelon is maturity. An immature melon usually has a hard greenish, unripe appearance and the underside is usually white or pale green. The rind of a mature watermelon has a somewhat velvety appearance and the lower side of the melon is yellowish in color.

Watermelons sometimes have a hard white streak running lengthwise through the flesh—a condition known as "white heart." This is undesirable but there is no way of knowing this condition exists without cutting the melon.

When a large whole watermelon is bought a buyer may ask to have it "plugged" before he completes the purchase, but if he buys it by the piece he can see what he is buying. In buying small watermelons, a buyer will frequently find that a sample melon has been cut and displayed beside the lot so he can see what the inside is like.

How to Buy Cantaloupe

Cantaloupe varieties differ as to color of flesh. Some buyers prefer deep salmon colored cantaloupe and will look for these in the market. About the only way to tell the color is to cut the melon, so it has become a common practice to display cut melon along with the whole melons of the same variety.

Sweetness, fine texture and flavor

CONDITIONING THE AIR—Slow evaporation of water in open jars helps to lower room temperatures as Indians try to beat New Delhi's 100-degree-plus summer heat.

or are factors that determine quality in cantaloupe. One can expect to find these only in melons that were well matured at the time they were picked. In buying cantaloupe a buyer should look for signs of maturity on the surface of the melon.

The stage of maturity of a cantaloupe is indicated by the netting or veining on the surface and by the condition of the scar on the stem end. The netting should be coarse, corky, or grayish color and well developed. The background color should be a lighter shade of gray or have a yellowish tinge. The scar at the stem end should be slightly sunken and calloused, a condition which indicates that when the fruit was picked it separated readily and was not cut or gouged from the stem. This is known as the "full slip" stage of maturity, when melons are in full flavor.

Frozen Melons—Slices, Cubes of Balls

Select firm-fleshed, well colored, ripe cantaloupe or watermelon. Cut in half, remove seeds and peel. Cut the melons into slices, cubes or balls.

Pack fruit into containers and cover with cold 30 per cent syrup (one cup sugar to two water). Leave head space. Seal and freeze.

Hot Weather Means Extra Caution

1. If you stew chicken today to use tomorrow, cool quickly, then refrigerate. Remove chicken from broth to wire rack. Cool broth by putting pan in cold water and stirring. Refrigerate separately.

2. When refrigerating, cover or wrap cooked chicken meat to prevent loss of moisture and flavor.

3. Use cooked chicken within two or three days after it has been cooked—broth within one to two days.

4. Uncooked chicken wrapped loosely placed in the coldest part of the refrigerator will keep for two or three days.

5. Quick frozen fresh or cooked chicken properly packaged will capture the freshness and flavor and keep weeks without question.

Good Nutrition

Chicken is an excellent source of protein. Dr. L. A. Maynard of Cornell University points out that on an energy basis poultry meat "supplies more protein than other animal products. This protein is complete which means it provides all the protein necessary for building and repairing body tissues. Chicken also provides minerals such as iron needed for good red blood and phosphorus needed for normal bone and tooth structure.

Only a few of the southern cities of Canada have annual temperature averages above 40 degrees.

Happiness Turns To Sadness When Told Condition of Her Son

LEWISBURG, Pa. (P)—An excited and happy Mrs. Hurley Baumer broke into tears when told by The Associated Press early today that her son Maj. William H. Baumer, one of 11 American airmen held prisoner by the Chinese Communists, had crossed the Hong Kong border to freedom.

But Mrs. Baumer's tears of joy turned to tears of bitterness when she was informed that Maj. Baumer was on crutches.

"Oh no, my boy on crutches. They didn't take good care of him, did they," she sobbed. "I knew he had lost five toes but thought he was otherwise all right."

In the last letter she received, a week ago, she said he sounded as though he was "in good health and coming back to me safe."

Mrs. Baumer said she would start making plans to meet her son when he arrived on the West Coast in a few days as soon as she received word from the government.

Off-Duty Disaster

EASTON, Pa. (P)—The Avona Fire Department had to close its carnival for the day yesterday after fire destroyed six stands and damaged two others on the carnival grounds.

Boycott School Until Integration Is Ended

HOXIE, Ark. (P)—More than 150 white persons agreed last night to boycott schools in this northeast Arkansas town until racial integration is abolished.

They signed a resolution presented at a town meeting by Herbert Brewer, a farmer, and they agreed to withhold their children from school, starting today.

Hoxie, like many towns in the east Arkansas cotton land, starts its fall term early in order to be able to close during harvest season.

Integration went into effect without incident with the opening of school last month. There were 20 Negroes and 1,000 white students.

Unusual Observation

SANTA BARBARA, Calif. (P)—Miss Ethel Wheeler, a U.S. Forestry Service lookout, swept her binoculars over Santa Ynez Peak yesterday looking for a fire. Suddenly she froze.

The glasses focused on a young couple dancing in the nude around a camp fire. The man was playing a violin, Miss Wheeler said, and his companion made ballet-like leaps.

Miss Wheeler telephoned Forestry Service Patrolman Everett Marshall, who hiked up and cited the couple — for having an open fire in a prohibited area.

Accidental electrocutions in the United States are about 1,000 a year or seven per million population compared to nine per million 25 years ago.

Talmage Hale To Pastorate At Smithton

By B. B. Ihrig

SMITHTON — Talmage Hale, of the East Broadway Christian Church in Sedalia, has been called as pastor of the Smithton Christian Church. He will speak on each 2nd and 4th Sunday mornings. On the first and third Sundays he is at Hughesville Christian Church.

Mr. and Mrs. William K. Reynolds and Linda and Michele visited overnight in the B. B. Ihrig home on Saturday. They were enroute to Colorado for a two-week vacation.

Mrs. Emma Bohon entertained the following friends on Wednesday afternoon: Mrs. Wallace Lang, and Mrs. Wm. Padgett, and son, Greg, Sedalia, also Mrs. Nell Preuss, Kansas City, Thursday luncheon guests in her home were: Mrs. John L. Monsees, Mrs. Tom Smith, and Miss Mamie McCormick, Sedalia.

Mr. and Mrs. James Hawkins and children moved to Independence last week. He is employed with the Kellogg Telephone Co.

Mr. and Mrs. Shelby Kahrs and family moved recently from Kansas City to their new home in Smithton.

Mrs. Arthur Baxter and three sons of Hays, Kan., visited in the Walter Baxter and Othel Griffith homes last weekend and also with Mrs. Cora Baxter. They were returning from a vacation trip in the northern states and Canada.

Castle Brothers, Ottumwa, have purchased the pumps, motors and pressure tank used in the old water system in Smithton. They plan to use these in a lead and zinc mine which they have southeast of Ottumwa.

The regular monthly meeting of the Royal Neighbors was held at the home of Mrs. Emma Bohon with Mrs. John Daniels presiding as. Refreshments were served.

Rev. and Mrs. William Butts and Janice returned last week from their vacation. They visited with friends and relatives in the Springfield and Joplin areas.

The fried chicken supper served by the Women's Society of Christian Service Friday evening was well attended.

Mr. and Mrs. August Oehrke, Mrs. Donald Oehrke and daughter, Linda spent from Tuesday until Thursday at Twin Bays on the Lake of the Ozarks.

Mrs. A. A. Bailey, sister of Mrs. Frances Oehrke, Mr. Bailey and son Dickey, Illinois, arrived Saturday for a weekend visit with

About Town

Mrs. Fred Yunker, Aukum, Calif., a former Sedalia resident, whose husband several years ago was a member of the Sedalia fire department, is here visiting Mr. and Mrs. L. C. Yunker, 317 West Fourth, and other relatives and friends.

Meat Is at Its Best on Outdoor Grill

By CECILY BROWNSTONE

Associated Press Food Editor

Everybody's doing it: cooking meat outdoors. But some grill addicts are more successful than others. Want to know the secrets of some of the best barbecue chefs?

Let's start with steak. You can, of course, choose such beautiful broiling steaks as beef tenderloin, sirloin, club, T-bone or Porterhouse. (Porterhouse is a T-bone steak with a large portion of tenderloin. You'll find some meat markets use the name T-bone and Porterhouse for the same cut.) Or if the beef is top quality and aged, chuck, rib, rump and top round steak may be barbecued over an outdoor fire whose long slow cooking will help to make them tender.

Marinating the steaks will also help to bring them to succulence. For the maintaining liquid you may use a thin barbecue sauce; a mixture of soy sauce, salad oil, crushed fresh ginger and garlic; or a mixture of salad oil, vinegar and garlic.

Some expert outdoor chefs suggest putting the steak on a grill, barbecue rack or wire meshing one to two feet above glowing coals. Others like to use an old-fashioned folding wire toaster with long handles so the meat may be turned easily.

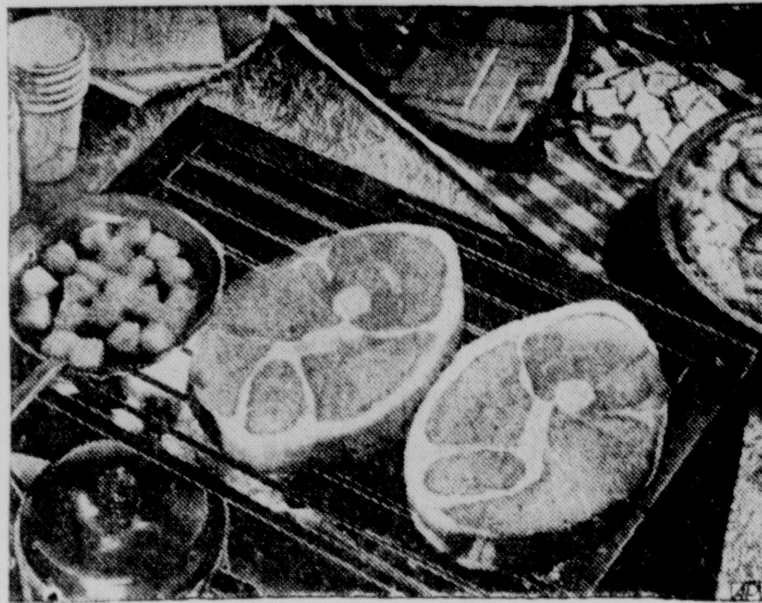

Use individual boneless steaks (each at least ½ pound). Let the steaks stand at room temperature for at least half an hour. Brown and cook the steaks to desired doneness and remove from the fire. Have a loaf of French bread split and buttered. Place the steaks on one half of the buttered bread; top the steak with dollops of herb-seasoned butter. Now top the meat with onion rings, tomato slices, salt and lots of freshly-ground pepper. Sandwich the bread and fillings together; slice diagonally to make individual servings.

HAM STEAKS
Choose thick center slices from fully-cooked ham and have them cut 1, 1½ or 2 inches thick; you can get these at your meat market. The thicker the better! This fully-cooked style of ham will grill to perfection over the coals. A 1-inch slice will need about 40 minutes while the thicker slices will take about an hour; turn the slices every 15 minutes and brush with some of the following pineapple

SAUCE
Make the sauce in your kitchen, then reheat it over the outdoor grill.

PINEAPPLE SAUCE FOR CHARCOAL-BROILED HAM
Ingredients: 1½ tablespoons corn starch, ¼ cup firmly-packed dark brown sugar, 1½ cups pineapple juice, 1 cup drained pineapple chunks.

Method: Mix cornstarch and brown sugar together thoroughly in saucepan. Stir in pineapple juice.

The Hard Way

NORFOLK, Va. (AP)—Marcus Cordrey, retired Coast Guard veteran, caught his record fish the hard way.

Cordrey, working at the Naval Air Station, said he saw the big fish in shallow water and threw rocks at him. The fish swam into deeper water. With the help of two sailors he went out in a boat. The fish continued to swim on the surface. Cordrey caught him in the gills with his hands and backed by the sailors, got him into the boat. The fish, a black drum, weighed 93 pounds.

Cordrey believes the fish was stunned by blasting operations on the Norfolk-Newport News tunnel under Hampton Roads.

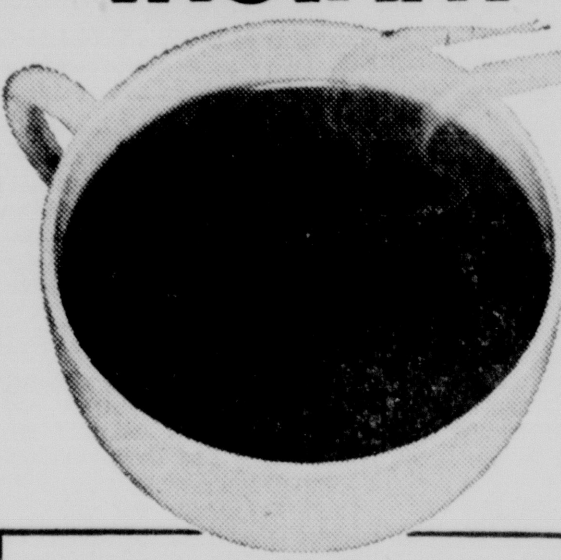

A record 128 million tons of freight went through the locks at Sault Ste. Marie on the Great Lakes in 1953.

Baseball's Home of Fame

SPRINGFIELD, Mass. (AP)—The Naismith Memorial Hall of Fame for basketball to be located on the campus of Springfield College will be started in three years.

The campaign for funds is being financed by the National Assn. of Basketball Coaches. Nearly $50,000 has been collected by the committee from benefit games at colleges and high schools throughout the nation as well as from sports fans, coaches and officials.

Picnic Given Houstonians At Marshall

By Miss Mary E. Tevebaugh
HOUSTONIA — Mrs. Shelton Rissler was hostess at a picnic Sunday night at Indian Pothills in Marshall. Those present were: Mr. and Mrs. Amos Rhinehart and granddaughter Debby Rhinehart, Mr. and Mrs. Walter May, Mr. and Mrs. Russell Wicker, Mr. and Mrs. Ramon Wicker and son Ramio, Mr. and Mrs. Jimmy Harris, Mr. and Mrs. Smith Higgins, and children Frankie, Kathy, Sally Jean and Mary Alice, Mrs. Hayman Higgins, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Morris, Mrs. L. P. Welborn, Mrs. George Huffman, Mrs. Claude Nutt, Miss Mary E. Tevebaugh, Mr. and Mrs. Shelton Rissler and children Sherry and Russell, all of Houstonia, Mr. and Mrs. Bob Hand and son Bobby of Marshall. A number of the group enjoyed swimming before a delicious picnic supper.

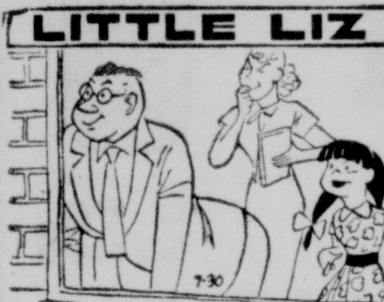

Mrs. James Blackburn, sons Jim Bob and Joe spent the weekend with Mrs. Blackburn's sister and family Mrs. Wm. Kiel in Ft. Madison, Iowa.

Mrs. Ormer Morris is visiting relatives in south Missouri.

Mrs. Jay Dorsey visited her sisters in Knob Noster the past week. Miss Cecil Stone, Kansas City, and Mrs. Stella Payton, Sedalia, were guests the past week of their brother, Lon Stone, and Mrs. Stone.

The following attended the Sedalia district MYF picnic at the Windsor park Thursday night: Mrs. George Geetz, Miss Mary E. Tevebaugh, Freddie Werneke, Robert Gregory and George Geetz, Jr. Mrs. Walter Schuler and family recently visited relatives at Wentzville.

Mr. and Mrs. Jimmy Harris and Mr. and Mrs. Keith Tolson, Sweet Springs, spent several days last week in south Missouri and Arkansas. While gone Jon, Mike and Pat Tolson stayed with their grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. John Tolson. Mr. and Mrs. Artie Nutt, Kansas City, were weekend guests of their son, Bernice Nutt, and family. Mr. and Mrs. Lowell Byrd and family have returned to their home in Greenville, O., after a two-week visit in the Granville Howard home.

Mr. and Mrs. David Walk visited in Kansas City recently with Mr. and Mrs. Allen Dean Nutt. Janice Walk and Elaine Lowrey returned home with them after a visit of a week in the city.

Mr. and Mrs. C. F. Wicker spent several days visiting their daughter, Mrs. Tommy Knight, and family in Hutchinson, Kan. Randy Knight returned home with his grandparents for a visit.

Dinner guests in the James Blackburn home Sunday were Mr. and Mrs. Fred Weinrich and son, Vernon, and daughter, Norma Jean, Warrensburg, Richard Andrews, Kansas City, and Mrs. L. L. Crews.

Graduates from Army Engineering School

Army Pvt. Kenneth L. Richardson, son of Otto L. Richardson, Florence, recently was graduated from the ten-week diesel engine repair course at the engineer school at Ft. Belvoir, Va. The course offered training in the repair of diesel engines, fuel-injection systems and auxiliary starting motors used on heavy construction equipment.

Richardson entered the Army last January and completed basic training at Fort Bliss, Tex. He was graduated in 1954 from Stover High School.

Sweet Sleep

DALLAS — Mrs. J. G. Curtiss, 90, asked police to help her find the tramp she gave a meal and an unneeded mattress. She remembered she'd sewed up $100 in the old mattress.

Asked for a description, the only thing she could remember of the man was that he talked "very sweet."

Attorney Leon Embry Closes His Office

By Mrs. Eva Shores

CALIFORNIA—The office of Attorney Leon P. Embry was closed on July 15 due to the illness of Mr. Embry, a patient at St. Mary's Hospital in Jefferson City. Mrs. Joe Chambers, who was secretary to Mr. Embry, has been employed as secretary to Prosecuting Attorney John C. Kibbe.

Misses Anna and Mattie Kolb have returned from a short vacation spent in Iowa. Miss Anna Kolb is on vacation from the Goff Food store where she is employed as cashier.

Mrs. Everett Wilson was hostess on Friday night to the Past Matrons club at the home of Miss Jen Morrison. There were 16 members present. Tea towels were embroidered as a gift to the Order of the Eastern Star. Refreshments were served.

Mrs. Stewart Williams has terminated her position in the office of the Montau Mill where she had been employed the past eight years.

Mrs. E. E. Tood and her granddaughter, Lucy Tood, have returned from a vacation spent in Colorado.

Mrs. Clarence Rohrbach has been a medical patient in St. Mary's hospital in Jefferson City.

Mr. and Mrs. Brooks Smith and children are guests of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Andres, and with her sister and brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Bowlin and children.

Mr. and Mrs. Silas Hofstetter are guests over the weekend of Mr. and Mrs. Bill Eckelberry and daughter, Hamilton.

Mrs. John Sappington is a patient at Research Hospital in Kansas City.

Miss Gwendolyn Lee, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Tom Lee, has been appointed director of religious education of Memorial Methodist Church at Farmington. She will assume her duties there on Sept. 1.

Mrs. Jack McLennan and daughter, Linda Fortuna, were guests Friday of Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Ferguson. Mrs. Mary Ferguson and Mrs. Sarah Tankersley of Fortuna spent several days in the home last week with their sister and brother-in-law.

Mrs. Elsie McDaniel and her grandchildren, Carol and Keith McDaniel, were guests on Sunday and Monday of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Milburn near Fortuna.

Mrs. Lee Pope, Bellaire, Tex., has been the guest of her daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Longan, and with friends. She also visited with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Hert, Kansas City. Mr. Hert has been a patient in St. Luke's Hospital the past few weeks.

Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Hall, Sheridan, Wyo., have purchased the home of the late Mr. and Mrs. Ed Willers on William Street. Mr. and Mrs. Hall were former residents of Latham.

Vacationists Make Visits At Clarksburg

By Myrtle Yarnell
CLARKSBURG — Mr. and Mrs. Hilton Douglas Clarksburg, her sister and niece, Mrs. Mary Francis Winieke and Gale, Springfield, have returned from a 4,400 mile trip through the northwestern states and a visit with Mr. and Mrs. Ned Sturgis and family, Richland, Wash.

Mr. and Mrs. Ward Yarnell of Kansas City spent their vacation with their son, Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Yarnell and family and they also visited in Sedalia.

Kathy Francis, St. Louis, is spending her summer vacation with her grandmother, Mrs. O. W. Rathel. Her brother Bert came Saturday for a visit.

Mrs. Nell Rogers, Kansas City spent last week with her mother and grandmother, Mrs. Ethel Rea and Mrs. Alpha Maxey.

The Rev. and Mrs. E. R. Knoll, St. Louis, were weekend guests of Mrs. O. W. Rathel.

Mr. and Mrs. George Albin spent Thursday night with Mrs. Alpha Maxey and Mrs. Ethel Rea, helping care for Mrs. Maxey, who is ill.

Mrs. Nora Birdsong and daughters, Sedalia, were weekend guests of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Stinson and family.

Herbert H. Kneisly, Ridge Crest, Calif., was a weekend guest of his sister, Mrs. C. D. Yarnell and Mary Maxine. He left for California after spending six weeks with his mother, Mrs. George Kneisly and Charles.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Coffelt and daughters were weekend guests of Mr. and Mrs. Warren Leonard and Carol, St. Louis. They took their eldest daughter Dianne to an eye specialist.

Mr. and Mrs. Alonzo Jobe and Terry and Miss Margaret Jobe, Kansas City, were weekend guests of Mrs. Susan Jobe and Miss Cynthia Cantlon.

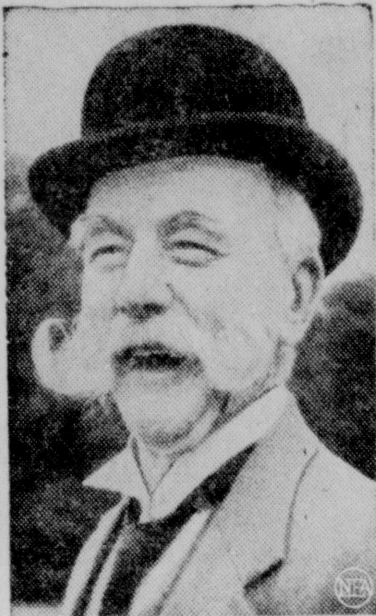

Mr. and Mrs. Orla Bowlinger and Kenneth and Mr. and Mrs. Fordyce Donley were weekend guests of Mr. and Mrs. Herman Scellars, Galena, Kan. Mrs. Scellars is the former Rosa Baker.

Miss Vivian Holloway spent Thursday evening with Misses Lela and Rebecca Zey, California.

Mrs. Susan Jobe visited Miss Mary Hill and Mrs. Winnie Hill, California, Thursday.

Mrs. Emil Wells, Grandview, spent last weekend with her mother, Mrs. Flora Powell. She returned home after taking her mother to the Charles E. Still hospital.

When U.S. men 70 to 74 years old go to the hospital, their stay averages about 28½ days compared to about 9 days for men under 45.

CLAIM TO FAME — Eighty-six-year-old Chilo Grant claims he has one of the most impressive mustaches on all the King's Royal Rifles. The old soldier from Winchester, England, began his military career in 1892 and left a year's retirement in 1914 to fight through World War I.

Serving in Germany

Army M-Sgt. Alonzo Collins is a member of the 290th Field Artillery Battalion in Germany.

Sgt. Collins, a member of the battalion's Headquarters Battery, entered the Army in 1947 and was last stationed at Fort Sill, Okla. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Will H. Collins, Concordia.

Enlists in Air Force

Thomas Lee Phifer, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank L. Phifer, Manhattan, Ill., enlisted in the Air Force July 20. He will receive his basic training at Lackland Air Force Base, Tex. He is the grandson of Mrs. Bertha Curnutt, 2004 South Ingram.

Judgment Day

GALVESTON, Tex. (AP) — City Judge C. C. Wright witnessed an automobile accident, then watched as one irate woman driver assailed the other one.

He interposed to say he thought the irate one was in the wrong.

"That will be for the judge to decide," she snapped.

"I am the judge, lady," he replied.

The case was settled out of court.

Outdoor cooking stunt: Scrub potatoes well and wrap them in aluminum foil. Bury in hot ashes and let them stay there about an hour if you've chosen medium-sized to large potatoes. Serve with butter or margarine, salt, freshly-ground pepper and cream-style cottage cheese to which minced parsley has been added.

These Dips Win Favor Everywhere

By CECILY BROWNSTONE
Associated Press Food Editor
Dips for snack time: Mention a dip you like to serve and the Ladies Club is all ears. Maybe because dips are a comparatively recent innovation. Well, newcomers they may be, but they seem to be here to stay.

Look back into American cook books of the early part of this century—including Fanny Farmer. Not a dip in sight. But open any spanking-new edition of a general cook book and you are sure to find them on hand.

One of the most popular of the dips is made with a base of avocado and comes to us via Mexico. Usually called Guacamole, it is seasoned various ways. Another popular dip has cream cheese as a base and it, too, is combined with other foods in fascinating array.

Here's a version of the avocado dip we like to serve with tiny frankfurters. We heat the frankfurters on the spit of our electric rotisserie or we simmer them in water just until they are hot enough.

And here are interesting additions to make to a cream-cheese base; use it as a dunk for pretzels. The avocado dip may also be accompanied by pretzels.

GUACAMOLE, SOUTHWEST STYLE

Ingredients: 1 medium-sized or large avocado, 1 tablespoon lemon or lime juice, ¼ teaspoon salt, ½ teaspoon chili powder.

Method: Cut avocado in half lengthwise; twist halves in opposite directions to separate; remove seed. Strip off peel. Mash avocado very fine with a fork; mix in lemon juice, salt and chili powder. If the avocado is medium-sized it will probably make ¾ to 1 cup; if it is large it will probably make 1½ cups and you may wish to add more lemon juice, salt and chili powder.

MEDITERRANEAN PRETZEL DIP

Ingredients: 1 teaspoon coarsely chopped garlic, 1 small can (2 ounces) anchovy fillets, 2 tablespoons cider vinegar, 2 packages (3 ounces each) cream cheese, ½ cup milk, 1 teaspoon capers (chopped) if desired.

Method: Mash garlic in mortar with pestle, or on waxed paper with flat part of heavy knife blade, until it is a pulp. Add anchovies with their oil to garlic and mash again to paste. Stir in vinegar. Have cream cheese at room temperature; gradually beat in milk; mix in garlic-anchovy mixture. Stir in chopped capers if used. Makes about 1½ cups. Serve with pretzels so that guests can dip them into the cream-cheese mixture.

DEEP SOUTH DIP

Talking of dips reminds us of an appetizer course in one of the most delightful of recently published cook books, "Jesse's Book of Creole and Deep South Recipes" by Edith Ballard Watts and John Watts (Viking). Jesse presided as "chief cook and bottlewasher" for Mrs. Watts' family and their five children for over 40 years and the cook book is a homey but intriguing collection of regional recipes. Included, too, are some Key West recipes that come from Watts' side of the family.

The cook book opens with Jesse's Showy Shrimp Buffet. For it a cabbage is hollowed out and filled with a Roquefort Shrimp Sauce. Then shrimp (cooked in specially seasoned water) and shelled are pinned over the outside of the cabbage bowl with white toothpicks; between the shrimp shiny black olives are impaled the same way. Around the cabbage—whose pretty green foliage is left on—go golden crisp potato chips. When the shrimp run out, guests use the potato chips to dip in the sauce. You can, of course, make your own Showy Shrimp Buffet with these general directions. But if you want Jesse's actual recipe, you'll have to get hold of a copy of the Watts' book. It might be you could borrow it from your local library; these days many libraries throughout the country keep adding new cook books to their shelves.

There's A Place For Trash

There seems to be general agreement that the Urban Plan bond issue was defeated at the polls, lacking two-thirds majority vote. Preceding the election the issues were reviewed and tempers matched the weather in heat intensity at the last moment.

But W. C. Cain, chairman of the Citizens Safety Council, says, "Bitter attacks were made by both sides—now that the issue has been decided by the people, these should be forgotten and we should all work together for a bigger and better Sedalia."

That's the spirit all right but try to keep the busybodies quiet, the ones who want to fan the fires of resentment by post mortem comment and digs. They've got their insides in a big uproar and they won't be satisfied until the growling is put to everybody's ears the same as an appendectomy victim after an operation wants to show her scar to all the sisters. At this late date some letter writers and tom-tom beaters are still trying to hatch out more villification germs in the refuse of a dead election.

What's the sense in it? Are we going to be election litterbugs scattering the trash about after the event, or are we going to pick it up and put it in the receptacles intended for that purpose, the same way we should do on the downtown streets and at the drive-ins—deposit the trash in the cans instead of dumping it on the ground for the wind to blow around on some neighbor's property?

There are so many ways to be tidy community-wise, and one of them is to dispose of the rotten bones of contention in the garbage can rather than carry them around with flesh remnants to become fly-blown.

Sedalians who are smart enough to win an election are smart enough to come up with some constructive programs to improve the city and they should have a chance to be listened to; and the same goes for the losing side. Let's quit carping and get on to the business of keeping Sedalia moving forward.

And by the way if we're going to use those downtown trash cans for disposal of election litter, now may be the proper time to batter the old ones back into shape and paint them, or buy some new ones.

Democrats Sore at Rayburn Ramrodding

WASHINGTON—Two of the most distinguished members of Congress are Senator Alben Barkley of Kentucky, better known as the Veep, and Speaker Sam Rayburn of Texas, known affectionately to many as "Mr. Sam."

Both came to Congress 32 years ago when a new Democratic President, Woodrow Wilson, took control of Washington in 1913 after almost 60 years of post-Civil War Republican rule. Both men since then have risen to great heights of power and prestige in the Democratic party and the nation. But they do not always agree.

The other day, Barkley remarked a bit plaintively: "I am getting awfully tired of passing legislation chiefly for the benefit of Texas and Oklahoma."

What he referred to was the ramrod tactics used to pass the Harris Bill through the House and the proposal to jam it through the Senate—a bill of great help to Texas and Oklahoma because it exempted natural gas producers from federal regulation when shipping gas north in interstate commerce.

The bill, rammed through the House of Representatives by a narrow 209-203 squeak, was a great personal triumph for Sam Rayburn. But as his friend, the Veep, hinted, it almost split the Democratic party in two.

This, together with the school bill, which Sam Rayburn would not pass, exposed to the public in ugly detail the basic cleavage within the Democratic party.

It's a cleavage its leaders don't like to show and sometimes won't admit. But when "Mr. Sam" throws the weight of his great prestige into the well of the House and asks fellow Democrats to stand up and be counted for or against him and Texas while simultaneously sidetracking the school bill, then the cleavage really stands out.

It was a cleavage that had the Democratic leader of the House, John McCormack of Massachusetts, voting against and working against the Speaker of the House, Sam Rayburn.

It was a cleavage that caused Rayburn to call the House into session two hours earlier in order to pass his natural gas bill, while keeping the school construction bill waiting another long year.

And it's a cleavage that the Democrats will

Guest Editorial—

DAILY OKLAHOMAN (Oklahoma City): Silly But Possible. In all of these extended and interesting discussions of the annual wage, no mention has been made of the plight of those business concerns that are active only for a limited season of each year. For three or four months their business is booming. Then it ends completely and there is no more production for the rest of the year.

Presumably the annual wage will apply to those seasonal businesses through the long months of their inactivity, and if it does, it will be quite difficult for the businesses affected to escape disaster. Possibly there is some provision in the annual wage program that will meet the needs of these seasonal businesses, but if there is, it has escaped general notice. Of course, if there is no such exemption granted, it is impossible to see how a great many business concerns can escape financial strangulation.

If the annual wage is adopted universally the next step in our changing economy will be a demand for national legislation to insure the financial solvency of every business that is required to meet the twelve months labor toll. Congress might be induced to provide a federal subsidy for businesses that may be required to pay twelve months wages for five months of work.

Silly? Of course it seems completely silly at this stage of the discussion. But it is no more silly than the demand for the annual wage appeared to be when it was first suggested. But now the annual wage is thoroughly established and no doubt it will spread until it is accepted universally as a national policy. Many people still think that is vicious but no one can say that it has not arrived.

When the exacted payment of twelve months of wages begins to send seasonal businesses into bankruptcy you can rest assured that appeals for relief will be presented immediately to our generous Uncle Sam. And no matter what measure of relief may be adopted it will be tantamount to a federal guaranty of financial solvency. There is no half-way house on the high road to national socialism.

trash about after the event, or are we going to pick it up and put it in the receptacles intended for that purpose, the same way we should do on the downtown streets and at the drive-ins—deposit the trash in the cans instead of dumping it on the ground for the wind to blow around on some neighbor's property?

have to do something about it if they even begin to think about electing a President in 1956.

To get the whole picture, you have to go back to the Supreme Court decision in the Truman administration that the Federal Power Commission had the right to regulate the price of natural gas when transported in interstate commerce.

It was not too long ago that Sam Rayburn vigorously opposed his chief, President Roosevelt, when FDR, frowning on certain Supreme Court decisions, tried to pass a bill superseding the court. But last week, Sam had forgotten that. This time it was Mr. Sam who didn't like the Supreme Court decision, and this time it was he who tried to pass legislation overruling the court.

For quite a while Sam had waited, hoping to get Eisenhower's support. But Ike was cagey. The Republicans had made commitments to Texas gas tycoons, who contributed so heavily to Ike's campaign, but even so Ike made a statement putting himself on both sides of natural gas regulation.

So Rayburn in the end had to go it alone. Despite the absence of Eisenhower support, and despite the frowns of his old contemporary, ex-Vice President Barkley, Mr. Sam threw his powerful prestige behind the gas bill even though it split the Democratic party right down the middle.

Northern Democrats, led by McCormack and Torbert McDonald of Massachusetts, button-holed congressmen, persuaded seven who were going to vote for natural gas to vote "no." But Sam was busy on the other side. And what they didn't know was that Rayburn simultaneously persuaded eight congressmen who were going to vote against natural gas to be absent.

So he won by the slender margin of six votes. One day later the housing bill was up for debate. Mr. Sam presided. The Housing bill provided for 35,000 public housing units to relieve slums in the big cities. But Mr. Sam was not particularly interested. Instead of buttonholing congressmen he sat placidly presiding. The public housing units were thrown out on their ear.

"When the peanut amendment is up for debate, it becomes a party matter," remarked one bitter northern Democrat, "peanuts affect the South. But when public housing comes up, then it isn't a party matter. Housing affects the North."

"I am tired," remarked the Veep, who comes from Kentucky, "of passing legislation chiefly for the benefit of Texas and Oklahoma."

Congressional Merry-Go-Round

One explanation given by Rayburn's friends for his promotion of gas while side-tracking the school bill and public housing, is the oil tycoons' threat to change Rayburn's district. Rayburn comes from one of the smallest congressional districts in the country, just north of Dallas, population 227,736. Just below Rayburn, Dallas bulges with a congressional district of 614,799, now Republican. . . . The Texas legislature, and especially the gas-oil tycoons who control it, have been threatening to add part of Dallas' huge population on to Sam's district—which would probably defeat him. But as long as Sam shoves through what the gas-oil tycoons want, he has nothing to fear—even if it does raise the price of gas to northern housewives. . . . It will be interesting to see what if any campaign contributions from the gas-oil crowd find their way into the campaign of Congressman Sam Friedel, Baltimore, next year. It was Friedel who broke a tie in the House Interstate Commerce Committee to let the gas bill out. Mayor D'Alessandro of Baltimore had testified energetically against the gas bill, and the people of Baltimore certainly don't relish higher gas prices. Nevertheless, Friedel, who represents Baltimore, moved to reconsider the 14-14 tie vote, thus giving the Rayburn-Republican forces time to bring in two extra votes.

Chou and Dulles Exhibit Fancy Footwork

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of State Dulles and Red Chinese Foreign Minister Chou En-lai may know nothing about prize fighting.

Nevertheless, they have been sparring around spryly in the diplomatic ring, exchanging words instead of punches, from their corners on opposite sides of the world. This is what diplomats call probing each other's intentions.

They might have done better by exchanging ideas quietly. But Dulles and Chou are not on direct speaking terms. The United States doesn't recognize Red China. Since they can't just call each other up, they, being statesmen, make statements.

Some more real probing may be done at Geneva, where ambassadors of the two countries right now are talking about the return home of American prisoners in China and Chinese in the United States.

But, since progress at Geneva may lead to a Dulles-Chou meeting later, everything the two men say at each other now across a continent and an ocean may have significance toward making that meeting possible or impossible.

Dulles acknowledged July 26 he didn't know what Chou was up to with his recent peaceful gestures, such as releasing some American prisoners and toning down the shooting around Quemoy and Matsu. It might be just propaganda, he said.

While everything the two men say is aimed at each other, some of it certainly is intended for friends and critics at home and abroad, all of whom are watching to see whether one side or the other is weakening.

For example, Dulles ruled out any deal to sacrifice Chiang Kai-shek's Nationalists, American allies, in exile on Formosa. Chou himself must have known Dulles could have said nothing else. In this country Chiang's supporters have voiced misgivings about any deals with Red China since they feared Chiang might lose out.

And Dulles raised the question, in a sort of tentative way, whether Chou would be willing to renounce the use of force in trying to get Formosa.

Chou came back with a statement July 30 as if the answer to Dulles' question as to whether Red China really wanted peace, Chou said it did because it had a tough job building up China.

That may be true or it may be propaganda, but then Chou said that if the United States—he was polite enough not to name it but only referred to the "great powers"—wanted peace it must abandon its military bases around China and give up its alliances in Asia.

Chou knew, as well as Dulles, that if anything like that happened it would be a long time from now. As for settling problems peacefully instead of by force, Chou said that's exactly what Red China wants.

In the same breath he told the United States to keep its nose out of Red China's efforts to get Formosa.

Dulles replied with another statement on Aug. 2, still demanding the Red Chinese renounce the use of force although how that's to be done is not clear.

And so it has been going. But since both men have been rather polite, in comparison with how they talked at each other in the past, this may be considered a mark of progress. But there's still a long way to go.

Dr. Jordan Says—

Proper Brushing of Teeth Good Pyorrhea Preventative

By Edwin P. Jordan, M. D.

The inflammatory condition of the gums known as pyorrhea alveolaris or periodontal disease constitutes more of a dental problem than a strictly medical one, although the general health has something to do with its development.

This disorder is probably as old as the human race since traces of it have been found in ancient remains. Several different types are recognized.

Many local causes have been incriminated: mechanical irritation, retention of food, poor functioning of the teeth or gums, and infection.

Also a considerable number of general conditions are thought to play a part in causing pyorrhea. Among these are allergy, bad diet, pregnancy, diabetes, Bright's disease, and certain disorders of the blood.

Because of the complicated causes for pyorrhea the condition may be a problem for both the dentist and the physician.

Local causes, of course, can be treated best by the dentist who is able to attack the mechanical irritation and other dental faults. Proper hygiene, that is brushing of the teeth, is, of course, important between visits to the dentist.

The physician is in the best position to analyze and correct any general deficiencies of the human body which are playing a part in pyorrhea.

If the diet is poor, then it is the physician who should find out what is lacking and recommend the necessary foodstuffs, minerals, or vitamins.

If allergy is partly responsible, then the allergic causes must be tracked down and corrective steps taken.

Similarly, diabetes, if present, must be properly treated. Bright's disease or disorders of the blood must be diagnosed and everything done for them which can be done.

Pyorrhea is not a condition which should ever be allowed to develop because it weakens the teeth and may interfere with the functions which the teeth and gums are supposed to fulfill. Moreover, pyorrhea or periodontal inflammation is one of the common causes of bad breath—a condition which troubles an enormous number of people.

Since pyorrhea can usually be prevented by proper brushing of the teeth and by reasonably frequent and adequate dental care, together with attention to the general health, it is one of those disorders which is fairly easy to avoid with a little care.

Few people now believe that pyorrhea is a serious cause of focal infection and likely of itself to produce arthritis, neuritis, or other disorders in distant parts of the body. Even when germs are present in the gums afflicted by pyorrhea, they are probably not absorbed into the blood system and carried through the body to produce disease.

Side Trips Get Soviet Farmers From Studies

ABERDEEN, S.D. (AP)—Lengthy side trips of individuals and groups from the delegation of Soviet farm chiefs distracted attention today from their tour of South Dakota farms.

Leader of the group, Vladimir Matskevich, is flying to Texas tomorrow for a quickie tour of the agriculture of the biggest state in the Union. Matskevich is proceeding to Texas A. & M. college and will rejoin the main body of the delegation, according to present plans, on Sunday in Minneapolis.

A group of three of the Soviet farm leaders, headed by Yuri Golubash, is to fly to Wyoming Friday to visit the Keeling ranch at Gillette. This tri will also rejoin the main group in Minneapolis Sunday.

Professor Boris Sokolov, corn breeder, yesterday flew to Fargo, N. D. to confer with an outstanding American corn breeder at North Dakota State College. He is scheduled to rejoin the main group tomorrow.

The other Russian visitors will proceed from here today to Brookings, S. D. But shortly after they arrive in Brookings, they will, according to present plans, be flown to Huron, S. D. to see an ice show, and then back to Brookings the same evening.

Outdoor Barbecues Are Fad Which Have Some Troubles

By MRS. JAMES R. BOYLAN

This barbecue business is for the squabs.

This is not some mad aberration that's settled on me because I was frightened by a frozen turkey steak or traumatized by a rotisserie.

Nor do I believe this because I, as all wives have discovered, do most of the work for any projected barbecue while friend husband cavorts in a chef's hat, prodding the air with a fork.

This is far from the case. When we eat out, we take a nice batch of stuffed eggs and roast beef sandwiches and sit on a rock. After this we go home and take a shower and play bridge. That is my idea of a picnic.

The barbecue business will ultimately consign western civilization to you-know-what kind of pit because it has simply got out of hand. There is no end to it.

Follow me, devotee of the rock lobster tail roasted and served with a heaping portion of twigs and grass cuttings and you will see what I mean.

Take Ralph Olswang, president, or chef, of Kamkap, the outfit that makes a barbecue gadget that starts itself spontaneously when the 5:35 pulls in at the station.

me Hudson. Russell remained for a longer visit.

Mr. and Mrs. Delbert Wilhelmson, Harrisonville, were weekend visitors with Mr. and Mrs. F. H. Harbit.

Billie Walters, Brownington, spent Sunday with his aunt, Mrs. Walter Lockwood and Mr. Lockwood.

Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Wilkerson, Mission, Kan., spent Tuesday with Mrs. Wilkerson's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Homer Brockway.

Mr. and Mrs. Sampson Van Hoozer left Wednesday for Boulder, Colo., for a visit with their son, Carl, and wife.

Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Osburn and son moved to Kansas City Tuesday where Mr. Osburn has employment with the Kroger Co.

Mr. Olswang received in a sea of cookout equipment that agitated, rotated and broiled nervously during the entire interview.

"This year," he pronounced, "the barbecue business is twice what it was last year. And last year it was 10 times what it was at the end of the war."

Mr. Olswang himself loves barbecuing. He fed a friend 13 ears of roasted corn and both survived to remain employer and employee.

"I am the laziest man in the world," he said. "But I work very hard at cooking outdoors."

He does not do the ensuing dishes.

Mr. Olswang's parting shot was that he expected in five years to have barbecue equipment in 85 per cent of all homes. Saturation, he calls it. Heat stroke and apoplexy are the normal words.

Take Lewis and Conger, dealer of hardware, Sixth Avenue's version of the general store. This outfit offers at retail an appalling catalogue of barbecue goodies, ranging from a $3.50 hamburger holder to a $349.50 thing to keep out flies that works almost as well as a house.

The manager, Martin Kalkstein, receives in a cubicle above a floor of hardware and barbecue-batty customers.

"There's no such thing as economy in outdoor cooking," he said. "A man spends $100 on a grill because it makes a better steak."

But not better than a range.

"Everyone sits outdoors and eats where everything gets cold. They have a tremendous array of appliances and accessories, lots of them bought for Fathers Day. Asbestos gloves, chef's hat, skewers made in every conceivable fashion. It's a booming business all right."

Mr. Kalkstein doesn't care for barbecuing outdoors, himself. Take Scarsdale New York, if you care to. This is a suburb of New York with platinum railroad ties and a charcoal gray city limit.

In Scarsdale, if you want to have a small barbecue for a hundred or so pink-and-gray friends, you call up the local caterer. He will cater the whole affair for you. Which carries the idea of doing-it-yourself-outdoors to its illogical conclusion.

According to everyone who makes, sells and uses barbecuing equipment, the end is nowhere in sight.

But before it infects my family. I'm starting a countermovement. Let's cook indoors in the kitchen tonight. This gadget here heats food and gives it a real indoorsy flavor. This one is well-stocked with milk and soda pop. And this one, dear husband, is where the soil is removed from the dishes in the most enjoyable process imaginable. You may wear a hat and apron while employing this do-it-yourself sponge gadget.

"Wives do the work for a barbecue while friend husband cavorts in a chef's hat, prodding the air with a fork."

Couple Enjoy Solitude Atop Mountain, Guard the Water

By Douglas Larsen
NEA Staff Correspondent
ATOP MOUNT DUBOSE, B.C. — (NEA) — Talk about round pegs in round holes, Herb Skuce and his wife take the cake.

Their job is to sit up on this mountain, guard the flow of water through the intake of the 10-mile tunnel to the gigantic power plant of the Aluminum Co. of Canada's new smelter at Kitimat, give daily weather reports and be ready to shut off the reservoir water if necessary.

The Skuces have been up here more than a year and have only had a handful of visitors. They consider this an ideal working condition. The helicopter which brings up supplies and mail every two weeks frequently doesn't even shut off its engine, thus making conversation unnecessary.

"It's just that I don't have much hankerin' for people," Herb explains. "That's something we don't have much of up here, which makes it real nice for the few of us concerned," he points out.

One chore of his unique responsibility is chasing away curious pilots who land seaplanes on the big lake-reservoir near the tunnel intake. He has great talent for this.

"We're really not anti-social," explains Mrs. Skuce. "It's just ony in outdoor cooking," he said. "A man spends $100 on a grill because it makes a better steak."

Most of them are fairly small black bears but there are a lot of huge grizzlies, too. Both Herb and his wife have had to kill several of the big ones in the past year.

The aluminum company, delighted with the couple's job, has given them the best equipment and furnishings possible. There are two, two-story quonset houses located about 200 yards from the lake. That's in case one should burn down or be damaged by the storms or snow.

The winters are severe up here and the snow just begins to melt off to show green in June.

They have a year's supply of canned food, if needed, and get fresh fish and meat from hunting and other fresh foods from the helicopter every two weeks.

Equipment available to them includes a couple of power boats, two small trucks, a snow plow, a tractor, oil heaters, emergency generators and a virtual arsenal of small arms and ammunition.

hat we find we like this kind of private life and don't need a lot of people around for company."

Herb is 55 and a native of Vancouver. He got the job from having been a guide in this part of Canada, slightly south of Alaska, when the Alcan first decided to build a new smelter five years ago. He was the first man on the job.

Mrs. Skuce is a native of Wyoming and has two married sons here and a married daughter in Colorado. She was a widow when she met Herb on a hunting trip several years ago. Their mutual interest in solitude, the outdoors and hunting and fishing makes it the ideal match.

In addition to relishing isolation Herb's special talents for the job include being an excellent mechanic, a good weather observer and a radio technician. He has a telephone connection with the power house but also has to relay many radio messages between distant points of the whole complex smelter project, which includes 5,500 square miles of lakes and mountains.

As far as Mrs. Skuce goes there is only one small annoyance about the assignment.

"At least twice a day I go fishing or out to inspect our traps and when I return I frequently find a bear on the front porch," she explains. "I don't like to shoot them when it's not necessary, but sometimes I have to get in the house," she says.

Bond Market Weakness Has Drawn Study

By SAM DAWSON

NEW YORK (AP)—Weakness in the bond market after the long rise in stock prices leads many traders today to take a close look at yields in both markets.

The nervous remember 1929 when bond prices turned downward months before the break in stocks.

But others simply note that common stock prices have climbed to the point where their average yield is now only a little higher than the return on bonds—normally there is a considerable spread because of the difference in risk.

In some cases now common stocks are yielding less than the average for preferred stock.

Yield measures the percentage of return (in dividends or interest) you get on the money you pay for the stock or bond. The yield on common stocks falls if the price rises without a corresponding hike in the dividend rate. The yield on bonds or preferred stock, where the interest payment is fixed, rises when the price of the security falls.

The price of long term U. S. Treasury bonds has fallen enough to raise the yield above 3 per cent for the first time in two years.

Several forms of investment compete for new money and savings. Mortgages with their higher interest rates have drawn the big institutional investors. The mortgage supply has increased greatly due to the housing boom.

Yields of stocks and bonds have now come close enough together for traders to start wondering: Where is the turning point?

Some brokerage houses are now saying: 1. Either people will turn from stocks to bonds, if the yield of stocks falls much further; or 2. The nation's prosperity will increase to the point that dividends can be smartly raised, restoring higher yields to stocks; or 3. People will decide that some stocks are priced so high that their yields are too low to be attractive, and get out of the market.

These brokers hold that stock yields can't go on falling and bond yields rising much longer.

Before the 1929 crash, the bond yield rose above the stock yield. But brokers see little chance that the 1929 experience will be repeated. They hold that money will not get tight enough this time to send bond prices very much lower, nor is stock speculation likely this time to blind the trading public to the yield they can expect when they buy common stocks.

The money market is expected

Robber Is Truthful About His Motives

BUFFALO, N.Y. (AP)—John W. Doll, 13, and his friend Anthony Maggio, 16, were walking past the Brink's, Inc., garage last night when they saw a man climbing out of a window.

Doll said they thought he was a guard.

"I asked him what he was doing," the boy said. "I thought he was fixing a window."

"He said, 'Why, we're robbing Brink's, sonny,'" Doll said. "He kind of laughed when he told me he was robbing the place, and I thought it was a joke."

"When I saw the other two men come out with guns . . . I knew he hadn't been joking . . ."

"Tony and I ducked behind a parked jeep and stayed down until the shooting was over."

Swedish shipbuilders launched a record 67 ships with a gross tonnage of 550,000 in 1954.

They met Thursday at the home of Mrs. H. B. Lynch. Refreshments were served by the hostess and Miss Lizzie Davis.

Wants Style Changed

LINCOLN, Neb. (AP)—City Health Director James T. Googe says the time has come when "we should break American tradition."

How? By making it acceptable to wear walking shorts to work.

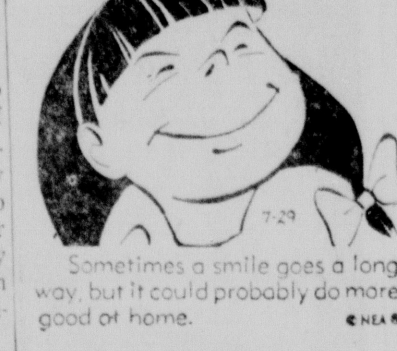

Dr. Googe said last night, "Many men, including myself, change in to shorts upon arrival home from work. But we don't wear them on the job because they aren't acceptable. What it takes is for 30 or 40 men in a town to band together and lead the parade."

Eisenhowers Attend Son's Birthday Fete

WASHINGTON (AP)—President and Mrs. Eisenhower drove to Ft. Belvoir, Va., last night to help celebrate the 33rd birthday of their son Maj. John Eisenhower.

There was a private dinner party at the two-story brick house into which Maj. and Mrs. Eisenhower and their three children recently moved. John Eisenhower has been assigned at Ft. Belvoir as an infantry training officer.

Released Airmen Will Go to Manila Tonite

TOKYO (AP)—U. S. Far East Air Forces said the 11 American air freed today by Red China are being flown to Manila tonight and to Japan Monday.

"A press conference will be held sometime Saturday," a spokesman said.

Newsmen are instructed that no questions on their capture and imprisonment experiences were to be asked at Hong Kong when the men were freed.
